THE SENIORS

at Waco, Texas

IN REMEMBRANCE

THE DAISY CHAIN, the yearbook of the Waco High School for nineteen hundred thirty, is affectionately dedicated to the memory of Sara Christian, a teacher, whose greatest joy was experienced in serving others, whose useful life was freely spent that youth might achieve, whose faithful loyalty to Waco High School was unsurpassed, and whose daily conduct was that of a

VOTARY OF HER GREAT EXEMPLAR,

THE MASTER TEACHER.

Purposing:

In this book to glorify
The modern youth of Waco High;
To present a pictiure true
Of our doings here to you.

We would have our readers know
How we work and where we go;
How the school is regulated,
While we're being educated.

Showing:

WHERE WE LIVE
WHO WE ARE
WHAT WE DO
WHEN WE BATTLE
"AND HOW"

"My trees are amiably arrayed
In pattern on the dappled sky,
And I may sit in filtered shade
And watch the tidy years go by."

—DOROTHY PARKER.

"Enter April, laughingly,
Blossoms in her tumbled hair,
High of heart and fancy-free—
When was maiden half so fair?"

—DOROTHY PARKER.

"Summer, do your worst!
Light your tinsel moon, and call on
Your performing stars to fall on Headlong through your paper sky."

—DOROTHY PARKER.

"Gathering clouds, and the snowflakes flying,
Darkening skies, and the night-wind sighing,
Pattering rain, and the grasses springing,
Flickering sunshine, and the young birds singing."

—DOROTHY PARKER.

Spirit of Waco High

We love our flag, the Stars and Stripes,
We love our native land;
We love our state, its single star,
For it we proudly stand.
But from our hearts a loyalty, we give with main and might
To Waco High, and we will fly the colors, Gold and White.

When school days end and we look on years in Waco High,
Our hearts will fill with memories of happy days gone by.
'Tis then our loyalty will rise above what time can tell,
And as yore, we'll sing once more the song we love so well.

CHORUS

Spirit of Waco is in our hearts so strong,
Gladly our voices shout the mighty song;
In battle or contest, we ever stand by you,
Spirit of Waco, to Waco High School true.

Who Are We

WE ARE THE FACULTY

Posed by Jessie Durham and Maurice Rouse

"And once they have you safe and sound,
They want to change you all around.
They cannot let you go your gait;
They influence and educate."

—DOROTHY PARKER.

SUPERINTENDENT B. B. COBB

For Bruce B. Cobb we give three cheers;
He is a jovial boss.
A superintendent fifteen years,
Without him we'd be lost!
He signs our sheepskins ere we pass
From high school, grown so dear;
And when the parting comes at last
He's there to give us cheer.

DR. H. R. DUDGEON

Our school board has a learned head;
A gifted man is he.
He studies much, is widely read,
As one is sure to see.
His services he gladly gives,
And gives them from his heart.
To work for others this man lives;
He always does his part.

PRINCIPAL E. T. GENHEIMER

Our high school's head and known to all
As one both just and true;
He'll come and gladly at your call,
And well will serve you too.
His word is law and we obey,
Though not that we're afraid;
But we respect in every way
The rules that he has made.

E. T. Genheimer, 5/14/'30.

DEAN ANNIE FORSGARD

Miss Annie is as much a part
Of the school that we hold dear,
As the famous Spirit of Waco Hi;
Cherished each day in the year.
She counts every girl as her friend,
She is ever loyal indeed;
Her services never know end;
Unselfishness is her creed.

TEACHERS, HAIL

You know so much and we so little know;
We wish to tell you e'er we leave this school,
How much we value lessons taught and learned,
The weary days and hours crowned with success
Like shadows with the sunshine interwoven.

But more than the lessons learned, we value
Those things not found in work but discovered
By chance; your sympathetic hearts; the pride
With which you welcomed our endeavors, each;
For these things, not the least, we thank you now.

—JESSIE DURHAM.

WE ARE THE SENIORS

Posed by Annie Laurie Hoke and Sue Goodall

"Now it's over, and now it's done;
Why does everything look the same?
Just as bright the unheeding sun—
Can't it see that the parting came?"

—DOROTHY PARKER.

TO YOUTH

Sing of the noble themes we could relate,
When Life steps forward with her golden chalice
Of joy to come, and dreams to be fulfilled;
Maturity knows not now the ecstacy
To travel down that Unknown Road,
Which Youth and Knowledge travel in accord.

What thoughts have we, in starting out
Of toil and tears, of sorrow or of suffering;
For come what may we have before us yet
Our emblems high, our courage to the point;
Hope is ever present and Love befriends us all
When we re-assemble at our Alma Mater's call.

Oh, Seniors, glorious class of 'thirty,
Prepared in heart to battle every storm
My earnest hope and wish for you is still
That not a single life from all your ranks
But that has the ideal in his breast
Of reaching out for nobler things afar.

—By Morean Matthias

A PROPHETIC DREAM

By Annabel Thompson

What a queer place! Where am I?

My goodness! Annabel, wake up, you are in the future.

What do you mean?

Well, I guess I will have to explain.

Yes, do so.

I have heard that children learn things easier by seeing them for themselves.

Yes, I have heard that too, but aren't you being a little sarcastic?

Take it for what you will; now let's be on our way to see things.

First, we will pass by the beautiful Building of Knowledge that "Cay" Prentice, the architect, designed.

Helen Schaffer and Doris McCown teach Greek in three courses there.

I am not a bit surprised because Doris and Helen were always such precocious students.

Melvin Armstrong is the astrologist and Ruby Johnson, Eugenia McKinney and Imogene Manning are Dermatologists.

Does Olivia Layne and Alice Leonard and "Libba" Morgan teach there too?

No Olivia and Alice stepped into the shoes of Miss Gladys Allen and "Libba" into the shoes of Mr. Hawes and they teach in Waco Hi.

Now I wouldn't have thought of that, but who lives across the street?

Maurice Jones and her family live there. I saw her run out the back door the other day because Ruel Edwards, the life insurance agent, came to the door. She thought he was selling needles and pins.

Artie Lee Eichelberger, Ella Harrison, Sarah Harnis, Fay Jenkins, Margaret Ella Johnson, Minnie Solovey and Jewel Pritchett are married too. A few of them keep the Brunetts in business. That is manufacturing rolling pins. The others use milk bottles to roll dough.

Who's that?

Where?

"Such Crust." That is W. T. Phillips eating hot cakes for an advertisement.

Pretty good employment but who is that over there?

Why that is George Harris. He cleans streets after his business hours. You know it was discovered to be quite a sport.

Well why didn't dish washing become a sport instead of me being the sport when I had so many to wash?

By the way do you remember the cast of our class play?

Do you think that I would ever forget them unless I was hypnotized? Some of them have obtained much fame in the past few years as professional actors, but Delma McNeill decided to keep on being a detective instead of acting, although he lost his badge three or four times.

Doris Durham is helping James Shear in railroading (if you know what I mean.)

Billy Coffield has retired after being a comedian for so long. He helps other fun makers with the millions of dollars his Great, Great Uncle left him.

I didn't know his uncle was so wealthy.

He wasn't until he struck oil in the front yard of the Poor House he owned.

But the rest of the actors, Hattie Childs, Lawrence Henry, Lois Sims, Henry Sharp, Judson Kirkpatrick, and "Nic" Alessandro are starring on footlights.

I am hungry.

How about going to Lelia Faye Williams Tea room?

Good idea. It's almost like the coffee shops in Sir Roger de Coverly's age.

Well I will declare! Look coming down the street.

It is Buster Elms, the fire chief and Jack Carrick, the speed cop.

Stand back! Quick! This one seems to be in a hurry.

Well if it isn't Robert Bumpas driving an ambulance.

Who owns the florist across the avenue?

Johnibel Spencer, Margaret Warren and Rube Mae Spencer. Margaret raises canaries and Johnnibel raises fishes.

Well, here we are at the Tea Room.

You might as well get a newspaper and read it, because they always serve late lunches so that you will get real, real, hungry and buy more.

Look at these headlines will you. Margaret McCollum and Helen Stobbie discover a peculiar race of people on an unknown island in the Atlantic.

It states that Lorece Sullivan was captain of the ship and Frank Connally the steward and Glenn Gibson fitted the expedition.

Another headline is that John Polly's football team has conquered the state championship for the eighth time. The boys proclaim him the best coach yet.

Here it proclaims Ray Gibson as the coming historian of America.

Yes I read one of his works. It was introduced by the sentence "Columbus discovered America, George Washington washed it and Volstead dried it."

Morean Matthias is gaining in the field of poetry.

I have heard one of her poems recited. It was an "Ode to a Gum Chewer."

I see where Gordon Coble and Edward Kindler are quite musicians.

Yes, but did you see the advertisement about the sixty volumes on "How to Overcome Inferior Complexes?"

No, who wrote them?

Mildred Brown, Camille Concilio, Viola Chaffin, Flora Patterson, and Mildred Dunson.

I see where Virginia Sue Blackstock is teaching kindergarten.

Yes, Anita Rogers and Ruth Salyer sent the children in their family to her.

Annie Mae Davis, Irene Marrs and Joe Ama Rocke are still cute stenographers.

Look at this ad will you. "Real Men want Permanent Straights. Get Them at Chester Schroder's Shop."

What does that mean?

Why, to straighten curly hair, of course.

Eva Pineda teaches toe dancing, from the looks of this paper.

How appropriate for Gladys Sparks to work in an Electrical Shop.

I wish you would read this article. Howard Laquest is becoming a satarist on human society.

Leslie Bird flies. I mean he is an aviator and so is Barney Bahme and Ronald Johnson.

I am glad to hear that Delbert January and James Hunt are leading a hunting trip to the North Pole. I wish them much success.

Elizabeth Roberts and Wilburn Cobb teach Sunday School Hymns at a new College.

R. F. Broadway, Miller Hicks, Richard Trice, Cecil James and Ralph Jones are daring newspaper reporters.

Oh—Annabel!

Yes—What's the matter.

Not a thing except I have been trying to wake you for the last thirty minutes.

Mother, I had the funniest dream I believe it was meant for the prophecy of——

If you don't hurry and get ready for school, I am afraid you will feel like a prophecy.

MID-TERM CLASS HISTORY

We don't want to brag, but we think that our class is simply one of the best that ever graduated from Waco High. We've thought that ever since we were ignorant freshmen and now we are positive of it. We really thought it was rather tricky to be called "slimes," but it was still more so to realize that we need not live up to the reputation of "slimes" nor be as dignified as seniors.
Of course we didn't feel exactly pepped to see the seniors puttin' off to their April Fool picnic while we stayed at school and worked the old beam. However, we were grateful to them for giving parties and such things which some of us were allowed to attend. Time passed, there was no one to stop it, and behold we were seniors. We had a marvelous time wearying the office about our grades, and going to senior dances. We bought our Annuals, our rings, and ordered invitations. Our class play was presented and of course everyone said it was practically professional! Then despite the discouragement of seeing ourselves dressed in those unbecoming caps and gowns we were graduated in a Flame of Glory. And then it was over! All over!

THE DAYS AT WACO HIGH

The dear old song we've sung, the gold and white we've flown so proudly;
The classmates growing nearer, dearer as each day goes by;
The classes, and assembly, when in pride we cheered so loudly,
They're all a part of days that we have spent at Waco
High!

Our young ambition was inspired to meet life's changing weather,
To keep unstained a standard, and a rise to do or die;
We lost and won as other did, we worked and played together,
We wrote a preface to our lives in days at Waco High!

And now, though we will have to part, and many paths must sever,
Our friendship is not ended just because we've said goodbye.
A chain of mem'ries in each heart will weld us close forever—
The years that we have spent at school—the days at Waco High!

—MARJORIE WARREN.

Always, Marjorie

W. H. S. BROADCASTING

By Lucy Richards

This is radiovision. Station W. H. S., broadcasting from Hotel Swindle at Waco, Texas. You have just been seeing and hearing the lunch hour program coming from the main dining room of the Swindle Hotel, and consisting of selections played by Eugene Hart's Orchestra with solo dances by Lacy Rose Hammond. Hart's Orchestra began today a six month's contract to play for this hotel. It consists of violins, Mary Gowen and Clara Bowie; oboes, Isadore Hoffman and Randolph Zolman; zithers, Elise Frankfort and Lowell Wammack; xylophones, Alice Geffert and Emil Slovak. The last group of pieces played were "The Song of the Primrose" composed by T. P. McNamara, leader of McNamara's Band, "Blue Bird Waltz" by Faye Smitherman and "My Radiant Beauty" by Charlie Frosch, words by Jane Flynn. Anyone calling this station between now and three o'clock will be mailed a copy of one of these selections as a compliment from the L. B. Smith Publishing Company. The last piece was sung and danced by Miss Lacy Rose Hammond, who has just returned from a season on Broadway. Miss Hammond also danced the "Mersereau," a new dance that is fast becoming popular and that gained its name from its originator, Miss Lucille Mersereau.

Now, Hotel Swindle has an important announcement to make to its friends. Recently Mr. Swindle and Mr. Robert Arrowood, another hotel owner, combined their interests and these Windle Hotels will from now on be known as Hotels Swindle and Arrowood. Many Waco friends of Connie Strickland will regret to hear that Mr. Strickland has been transferred from the Management of this hotel to one in Birmingham, Alabama. Taking his place is Mr. Alvin Thralls, having as his assistant manager or hotel hostess, Miss Helen Etter.

It is a little past time for the revival from St. Louis but stand by for a moment while W. H. S. makes the connection and you may hear the remainder of the revival program:

"This is the Radiovision Revival from Station S. O. S. of St. Louis. We have just received a telegram from Dr. Howard Sego of Speegleville, Texas. He requests that a song be dedicated to his wife. Dr. Sego, we will be glad to do that tomorrow, but we have sung all the songs we have time for today. Also we have had a phone message from John Drake, President of the First National Bank of this city. Mr. Drake has kindly said that he is mailing us a check to aid in financing this revival. Thank you, Mr. Drake. And now Rev. Hander has a message for us. Rev. Hander:

'Today, friends, I want to talk to you concerning—'"

You have just heard the radiovision revival over station S. O. S. of St. Louis through W-H-S of Waco. The speaker was Reverend William Hander; the organist was Ophelia Horton; and the singers were Mabel Claire Gladden, Marjorie Sherrill, Aniece Taylor, and Willie Lou Salles.

W-H-S, broadcasting from Hotel Swindle and Arrowood takes great pleasure in introducing Miss May Florence Wortham who has an announcement important to all parents of small children. Miss Wortham:

"Parents, I speak to you this morning with the intention of aiding you in the care and education of your children. Under the sponsorship of Station W-H-S I expect to open next Monday morning a radiovision kindergarten.. Assisting me in this work will be Misses Olga Olson, Bentley Hooks, Willie Mae Jones, and Anna Belle Dean."

Thank you, Miss Wortham.

W-H-S broadcasting from Hotel Swindle and Arrowood and it is time for our weekly review of the theatres. The Auerbach, a new theatre owned by Regina Auerbach is now showing "Red Tape" presenting Kathie and Margie Warren and Wayne Isaacs. The vaudeville at the Auerbach features Julius Boettger and is exceptionally good; don't miss it. You must see the "Modern Bluebeard" at the Fox. It is recognized as the hit of the season. Bluebeard is played by A. J. Smith while his wives are played by Martha Haley, Isabelle Harris, Vernez Moser and Dorothy Dobbins. At Mildred Boese's theatre is showing "The Haunted Aeroplane" which was written by Olga Concilio and was published in novel form by the Rutherford and Roddy Publishing Company in 1942. This novel was met with such great approval that the film of the story was immediately begun. The film was directed by Mildred Maddox and the leads are played by Percaline Hartman and C. L. Rector, Kathryn Van Zandt, and Brady Stevens. These are all the shows that changed today, but the City Federation of Women's Clubs with Miss Helen Rector as president wishes to announce that it will present the actress, Bessie Mae Derrick, formerly of Waco, in a dramatic recital at the Baylor Chapel November 28.

This is W-H-S broadcasting from Hotel Swindle and Arrowood at Waco. We take this opportunity to explain to our friends the new ballot to be used at election tomorrow. The Rinewalt Ballot system, so called for its inventor, Lionel Rinewalt, is, as you know, a mechanical ballot. Mayor Louise Street has kindly consented to demonstrate the way to vote with this ballot while I try to explain it. There are two large buttons on this mechanical ballot, one button for each party. If you wish to vote a straight Democratic ticket press the button bearing the label Democrat, but if you wish to vote a split ticket press the small buttons opposite the names you wish to support. As you do this, you print your own ballot. In Mayor Street's right hand you see a straight ticket while in her left hand she holds an example of split ticket. This is the first time in many years that the citizens of the United States have been divided into only two large political parties. Also, this is the first election for presidency that we have not used the elector system. And now, citizens, to save time at the polls tomorrow, let us review in our minds the names that will appear on the mechanical ballot tomorrow. The candidates in the election tomorrow are as follows:

This is W-H-S of Waco. You have just heard a reading of the ballot of tomorrow's election but for the next hour or so W-H-S will rebroadcast a program from S-O-A-P of Chicago.

"This is Station S-O-A-P in Chicago. The program is sponsored by Annie Tabor and Louise Roach, manufacturers of America's finest French soap. Tonight they present Mademoiselle Mary Bertha Wood, Dorothy Jacobs, Lydia Hamilton, and Evelyn Price and Messieurs Coleman Carpenter, Odie Sullinger, and Harry Martin in a French operetta composed by Lucy Richardson. The curtain rises and you see the hero and heroine seated in a beautiful rose garden. The hero ..... As the curtain falls you hear the chimes of wedding bells. These singers and station S-O-A-P would like to hear what you think of this operetta. Would you like to hear others? Write us your opinion. Our time is nearly over, Radiovision friends, but before we bid you good afternoon we must tell you about the French class that is to begin tomorrow at this time under the auspices of the Roach and Tabor Soap Company. Mademoiselle Lucille Wood is the teacher and director of this class. She has lived for quite a while in Paris and speaks French like a native. If you wish to enter her class obtain "Les Essentiel en Francais" by Kathleen Shear. Mlle. Wood intends to use this as a text book. It can be bought at Loraine Stanford's book store at the corner of Fifth and Main of this city. Another announcement is that Le Cercle Francais de Chicago with Miss Anne Scott as president meets the last Friday of every month in this studio, allowing its program to be broadcast. Et maintenant le Roach et Tabor Company dit 'Bonjour.' It has been William Tietz announcing over station S-O-A-P."

You have just heard station S-O-A-P from Chicago throught W-H-S at Waco in Hotel Swindle and Arrowood. Today we have a surprise for the women of our radiovision audience. It is a style display rebroadcast from station C-H-I-C of Los Angeles. This style show is sponsored by the largest woman's ready-to-wear shop in the world and the one that sets the styles for the United States. It is known as the Marie Weldert Shoppe. Just a minute and you will see these beautiful gowns.

Station C-H-I-C of Los Angeles, California. The first costume is a tea gown and it was designed for Mrs. C. W. Tabb, formerly Miss Virginia Avery and now the wife of the oil magnate. The gown was designed by Leonora Stuart. The next creation of blue was planned by the artist Robert Muhl. The shading from dark to light seen in this dress is the very latest note in fashion. Next is the wedding gown that was made for Miss Minnie Lee Rutledge on the occasion of her marriage last week to the movie director Orville Creasey. The designer of this gown was Ruth Southwell. Here is the sport costume designed by Ruth Holley that is considered just the thing by Miss Edna Martin, its buyer, for little shopping trips in her plane from New York to Los Angeles. The last two are evening gowns. These have not yet been sold but they are favorites of many. The first was designed by Ledus Curd and the second by Dot Harwell. The models this afternoon were Cleo Frances Morgan, Mary McCauley, Willie Anna Robinson, Mary Pitts, Maggie Lee Hasha, and Willa Dora Hall. This is Station C-H-I-C from Los Angeles. The style show just seen was presented by the Marie Weldert Shoppe. You may feel sure that what you buy at this store is the original and no copy."

This is station W-H-S of Waco, which having just finished rebroadcasting a style review from Los Angeles, continues its broadcasting with the rodeo at the Brisby Fair Grounds at Waco. This fair began last Tuesday, and it is so named for its sponsor, Oscar Brisby, the Texas Cattle King. As judges of the rodeo contests of this afternoon, we have three ranchmen, Roy Martin from Nevada, Ben Reed from Wyoming, and Jack Freeman from Oklahoma. The first contest is that of riding Bucking Broncos. First comes Cowgirl Madge Terrell on "Lightning." Looks like its going to be a ride. Nope! Terrell is thrown from her horse a second before the gong. Here enters Cowgirl Anne Hoke, riding "Gentleness." This horse has not been ridden in two years. Say! Is that horse pitching? Looks like Hoke is going to stick. She does. There goes the gong and Cowgirl Hoke gets credit for a good ride, having broken the two year record of "Gentleness." Here comes Cowgirl Faye Boyles on Dancer. Dancer is a rather rough horse and Cowgirl Boyles finds this true as she is thrown on the first plunge. Last of the cowgirls in this contest is Mollie Beerman. She is riding a large black horse. The horse pitches a couple of times, the gong rings, and she gets credit for a ride. The first of the cowboys is Edward Brown. He rides in; the gong rings; and he gets credit for a poor ride as the horse presented no opposition. Audrey Smith comes next on Big Boy, but he is thrown from his horse immediately after reaching the arena. Cowboy Joseph Englander is last on the toughest horse of the day. Say! it looks like its going to be a ride. It is! There goes the gong and a big cheer from the crowd.

This is station W-H-S, broadcasting from the Brisby Fair Grounds at Waco. While waiting for the next contest to begin, let us look around and see who is present at the rodeo today.

In the box on the right sits Governor Frances Darden and Senator Nettie Sue Briscoe, both of Texas. They have just been joined by Attorney Jack Brooks. In the box just beyond you see Representative Linnie Strother from Oklahoma, and with her is the best known writer of western stories. It is as you have probably already guessed Mamie Sanders. She is perhaps here looking for a cowboy hero for her next novel. Just to our left sits Mrs. Turner, nee Annie Louise Bayer, wife of the Ambassador to Spain, and in the box with her is Lynda West, the famous cartoonist. The people here are taking this intermission as an opportunity to refresh themselves. They are keeping the candy, soda pop, ice cream, and pop corn boys busy. A few rows down and perhaps in the scope of our radio vision you may see Dorothy Rogers, who gives cooking lessons over W-H-S from 10:00 to 11:00 every morning, eating Seawell's Salted Peanuts. Farther down is Miss Ruth Mayberry, a reporter for Ullrich's Evening Herald. She is buying Guice Ice Cream. The Guice Ice Cream Factory was recently opened in this city by Carmen Guice, owner, and yonder is a boy selling Hansel Scott's soda pops. Looks like the governor is going to buy some—er that is Attorney Jack Brooks over radio vision buys the pop for that box. It is too bad you folks can't see all of this, but maybe someday a bright inventor will make a radio vision with a wider scope and able to take in great spaces. I believe one scientist, Robert Killough by name, claims to have done this very thing, however his product is not on the market as yet. Anyway the people in this grandstand are not only refreshing themselves, but they are being entertained by one of the airplanes from Evelyn Tedrow's Rent a Plane Shop. This plane is doing some very pretty sky-writing. Just now it has written in blue letters "Use Better Cosmetics manufactured by Lela Fay Wadsworth and Virgie Mae Henderson."

And now, ladies and gentlemen, we must return to our rodeo contests. This one is calf roping. First is Cowgirl Helen Kilgore. She slings her rope, catches the calf, but she is wasting time getting it down. There it goes and she completes the tie in fifteen seconds. Next is Cowgirl Marjorie Beringer. She is eliminated after throwing her rope twice and failing both times to catch the calf. Pauline Berkman is the next contestant. Cowgirl Berkman slings the rope, catches the calf on first throw, saves time by falling off her horse and now she has completed the tie in six seconds. The crowd grows frantic. The remaining contestants are two cowboys, Wendell Mixson and Morris Lee. Let's see if they can beat this record. Mixson rides forth. He misses the calf on first throw but in spite of that fact he completes the job in twenty seconds. Cowboy Lee has better luck. He catches the calf and completes the tie in six seconds, tying with Cowgirl Berkman. The crowd is due to cheer again as this is done and the winners of the day ride around the arena bowing and tipping their hats.

This is all of the rodeo today and now we must return to our studio in the Hotel Swindle and Arrowood.—Station W-H-S at Waco. It is time for our regular afternoon feature news casting. These news items are prepared daily for Station W-H-S by the Ullrich's Evening Herald, Anton Ullrich, editor.

Here is an article from England announcing the engagement of America's most beautiful woman, Miss Martha Hammond, to Lord Aldrich of London. Another article, this one from Paris, describes the marriage of Miss Henrietta Hickman to Count Disastre. The article reads: This wedding is the prettiest Paris has seen in many a day. Not only the wedding gown and the dresses of the attendants but the entire trousseau of Countess Disastre was designed by the artist, Mademoiselle Pauline Durie. The musician, Elnora Voznica, played the wedding march and Alberta Olson, famous over Europe for her beautiful voice, sang "Loving You" which was composed for this occasion by the noted composer Whatzaname. Among the guests at the ceremony was the American Ambassador to France, Louise Sasser.

And here is another item from Paris. It reads, "The aerial Cathedral has just been completed after three years of constant labor. The plane pilots that have been engaged to carry people up in the air to this cathedral are Inez Bevill, Maureen Moore, Ethel Hander, Annie Johnson, John Sedberry, and Alex Harding. The idea of building this Cathedral presented itself to Mr. Maurice Rouse. He in turn told it to the architect Miss Margaret Carroll Robertson. Together they worked it out, Miss Robertson drew the plans and Mr. Rouse promoted the building in general. It was a lucky hour, when they secured Cecil Perkins as contractor, for it was through his genius that this great piece of art suspended in the air was completed in so short a time.

An article from Mart, Texas, states that a new dog clinic owned by the veterinarians, Norval Mullins and Harry Jeanes received its first patient yesterday, when an auto, driven by Professor Ila Mae Hall of Mart Business College, struck and hurt a bull pup, owned by Miss Margaret Green, who is said to have the finest collection of dogs in this city. The dog was not seriously hurt and Myra King, a day nurse, reports that it is resting easy. Other day nurses in this dog hospital are Louise Eichelburger, Alta Anderson, Leoti Grimland and Pauline Krocker, while the night shift is Imogene Wallace, Genevieve Taylor, Louise Gray and Faye Pierce.

Denton, Texas. Miss Mary Loughridge has just accepted the position as Dean of Women at C. I. A., also Miss Eleanor Berry was recently made head of the department of non-sense in the same school.

The Texas Bus Terminal at Waco has been located at Fifty-second and Barnard across from Hotel Swindle and Arrowood. This bus line takes in the most important places in this state. The terminals at Houston, Hewit, Dallas, Denton, Banana Junction, and Waco are managed by Lemma Billingsly, Naomi Gibson, Dorothy Mooney, Mabel Maddox, Katheryn Claire Hale, and Lou Edith Mosley, respectively while Martha Reynolds owns and operates the entire bus line. This indeed is not Miss Reynolds' first experience with bus lines. Those driving Waco busses are Catherine Caldwell, John Hamner, Irene Bolton, Virgil Cottle, Lois Huddleston, and Raymond Alexander. The The first passengers of this new bus line arrived in Waco at 10:00 this morning from Banana Junction. They were the city health nurse, Louise Robinson; Aubrey Butts, dentist; David Loving president of the Banana Junction Bank; officer Clarence Mullen, also of Banana Junction; and the red-headed magicianess, Gladys Swindle.

In Little Rock, Arkansas, Douglas Crook and Ronald Johnson, two scientists, have discovered that silk can be made from Johnston grass. These two men sold for an enormous price their formula for the making of silk to Craven Green and Irvy Tatum, who intend to open factories immediately throughout the United States. A factory is expected to be completed in Little Rock by the first of next year, and it is for that reason that Hugh B. Crain, Fred Quebe, Sam Aronson, Ray Howle and other wise farmers near that city are preparing to sow their entire farms in this grass.

Los Angeles, California. The University of California has at last secured Zuber McMillan as football coach. Mr. McMillan signed a six year contract today. Coaching the girl's football at the same school is Katherine James.

You have just heard news casting from W-H-S, and now we are going to broadcast the speeches of the banquet for the Teachers Convention meeting in this city. Waddy Hughes of Hughes' Business College is acting as toastmaster.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I feel sure that you have enjoyed this music by the hotel orchestra and also this good food. Just as certain do I feel that you will enjoy the speech that is to follow this banquet for we have as speaker this evening Walter Lacy, president of A. and M. Colloge. May I introduce Mr. Lacy?"

"Friends, I want to vary, if you allow me to do so, the regular order of after dinner speeches. I feel that as this is a get acquainted banquet we should do that very thing. Therefore, I shall undertake to identify the faces present at this table tonight in an effort to make this convention seem as a reunion of old acquaintances. When I call your names, friends, please rise. First, let us take the representatives of the Texas University. Here is Miss Kitty Lee Helm, head of the English Department and Miss Maxine Harrison, teacher of short story writing, and there is Mr. Philip Sanger, who is head of the Science Department. On my left is Miss Anna Bell Tennison, teacher of music in Rice and next to her is Miss Eva Roscoe also of Rice, but a teacher of Latin. As representative of the History Department of that school is J. L. Allen. Just in front of me are four teachers from Randolph Macon College of Virginia, Misses Ida Beerman, Velma Howard, and Iva Sue Scruggs and Mrs. Ione Britton Brown. Misses Grace Easterwood, head of the Art Department, Anna Sturgis, teacher of French, and Dorothy Roberson, head of Spanish Department are here tonight to represent C. I. A. of Denton, Texas. On my right sits Charles Webb, president of Harvard, and next to him is Harry Siegel, Dean of Law at Yale. S. M. U. has here as representatives, Misses Hazel Burns and Roselyn Adams of the English Department. From Columbia University we have here Hubert McMillan, Professor of Math and Mrs. Mildred Henderson Haley, a teacher of History. Next to the end of the table is Miss Eva Crook, Dean of Women at Baylor. And last at the very end of the table are the representatives from the University of California who are Professor of Greek, Ernest Keopf and instructor in dramatic art, Mrs. Jean Lyster Jenkins, and Frank Buldain, professor of History. I think this includes everyone doesn't it? As I look at my watch I see that my speech lacks several minutes of the time I was assigned. These minutes could be spent very pleasantly in the ballroom yonder. What do you say, Mr. Toastmaster?"

"Fine, Mr. Lacy, fine."

This is Station W-H-S broadcasting from Hotel Swindle and Arrowood at Waco. For the past few minutes you have been listening to Mr. Lacy, the speaker for the convention banquet. W-H-S has been operating on its assigned frequency of 10,000 kilocycles by authority of the federal radiovision commission. Radiovision, friends, it is now necessary for W-H-S to discontinue its broadcast for the next 30 minutes while the piano tuner, Brooks McJunkin, tunes the musical instruments and puts all in readiness for the recital to be given at 10:00 by the piano pupils of Camillo Cimo, vocal selections being given by pupils of Mildred Collet, while several pupils of the expression teacher, Bess Barlow, and the dancing instructor, Christine Futch will also appear on the program. W-H-S is signing off at exactly ten minutes and forty-one seconds past 9:00 o'clock. You have just heard the correct time through the courtesy of The Eugene Belcher Watch Company. And now W-H-S bids you good evening until 10:00 when we will return to the air."

JUNE CLASS HISTORY

"It was many and many a year ago—" Only three to be sure, but it seems many more to us now, who have come to feel as though we had always been a part of Waco High School. It was the same old story. We were the usual shivering, shaking, quivering, quaking freshmen, timidly approaching the portals of Waco High, half longing for and fearing what was to come. Many a time during that first eventful year, did we long for the sweet security of our respective Junior High Schools, where as Seniors we had formerly held our proud sway. How we longed for the little schools we had left behind us as, with our arms loaded with books, we trudged from sewing or shop in the basement to history on the third floor.

The joys of our second year can never be recorded. Minus the terrible fears which accompanied us as "Slimes", and not yet having reached the restraining dignity of Seniors, we put to active use the remaining years of childhood, and romped over the building, and were untiring in our efforts to annoy the traffic "cops" and the office force with our wanderings. And then, how lovely it was to seek revenge on the new "Freshies" for the deeds committed against us; to witness and add to their discomfiture. Such a pleasure it was to be asked concerning rules and regulations instead of asking, and to sell to them the lockers and elevator tickets which had been "pawned off" on us in our freshman year. Not for a kingdom would we give up our memories of that year.

Another year passes and behold! To grace our crowning year, a new addition to the dear building, and with it new and numerous changes. "The Huacoan" is born and established in a new office. All this for the class of 1930? We like to think so. In the sublimity of our place as Seniors, we rule with haughty mein and fierce pride in our little domain.

As Commencement draws near, and another class is about to succeed us, our hearts begin to wish that some of those happy months might be lived again. We hand over to those who follow us, the duties and privileges that we have had, and wish for them the joy and happiness that has come to us in those brief, never-to-be-forgotten years in Waco High School.

HOW WE SELECTED THEM

On the preceding pages are shown the six most representative girls in school according to the opinion of the senior class. One of the most important events in the life of the sheep-skin seekers is the picking of the girls who are to appear in the Favorite section: those who are to be honored above all others for their honest endeavors to uphold the highest ideals of the school.

Voting is done by secret ballot and six out of twelve representatives are chosen. The counting of votes is done secretly and not until the annual is printed and distributed are the winners revealed. A committee of fifteen of the most worth-while boys is selected with the supervision of Principal Genheimer and these boys list the girls who they think have measured up to the highest standards: those who have stood at the top in scholarship and yet have found time to belong to organizations and to support outside activities.

This has been a prosperous year for the Parent-Teacher Association, and the club counts its accomplishments in two figures. Among other things, bright curtains with cretonne side drapes have been hung in the school offices. Pictures have been framed. Five large cedars have been planted on the campus and two beds of evergreens have been placed at the entrance. Two cots with gay colored spreads have been provided in the teachers' lounge room.

Monthly meetings with varied programs have been held. Book week, thrift week and music have been observed in fitting manner. Birthdays of both the Texas Congress of Parent-Teacher Association and the National Congress have been kept.

Delegates were sent to the district and state conventions and a representative from the organization has been present at each City Council meeting.

The band has entered the state contest for the last four years and has tied for first place two times and winning second place last year. In this contest there are usually as many as thirty schools competing for grand honors.

As the annual goes to press the band is making plans for the state meet to be held in Port Arthur, May 11, 12, 13.

From time to time during the year the band takes a prominent part in school activities. During the football season each player is found in his place in the grandstand long before the game is scheduled to begin. The band plays often during assembly and is in demand many times during the year at social events.

With new quarters in the spacious Music Rooms of the new wing, all of the organizations of the Music Department have worked with splendid co-operation to make this the most successful year in its history. Combined in this effort there are the following groups: the Band of 65 pieces, the Orchestra of 50 pieces, the Senior Girls' Glee Club of 40 members; the Intermediate Girls' Glee Club—the latest provision in the Girls' Glee Clubs, that of a year's work leading from the Junior to the Senior Clubs, of 35 members; the three Junior Girls' Glee Clubs with a membership of 120 members; the Boys' Glee Club of 30 members, the Mixed Quartet; the Boys' Quartet, and the Girls' Sextet.

The Senior Girls' Glee Club entered the Interscholastic Music Meet held in Denton in April of 1930, and won first place in the Choral Competition there, which trophy was the eighth consecutive cup. From the Club, a Sextet is chosen each year, the first trio of which represents the school in the Interscholastic Music Meet at Baylor College, Belton. The representatives this year are: Dorothy Jacobs, Lydia Hamilton, Mary Bertha Wood. Other members of the sextet are: Alberta Olson, Jean Lyster and Irma Sullenberger.

The Pep Club, as a recognized activity of the Waco high school, came into existence in the fall of 1928. At that time the club was organized according to the law of regular parliamentary procedure.

The gold jersey bearing a white tiger head and white skirt comprise the uniform of the cheer-dispensers.

There has been a steady growth in membership and an unusual increase in interest in general meetings since formal organization. This year the active membership of the club was ninety-nine.

Under recommendation made by Principal E. T. Genheimer the club was sent to Breckenridge at the expense of the athletic association.

The Latin Club is one of the oldest organizations of the school. It has existed under its present management, with Miss Osborn as sponsor, for about seven years, and in the fall of 1929 was divided into the Patrician and Plebeian groups. Just as the Patricians of Old Rome were the upper class of society, so the Patrician club represents the higher students of Latin in Waco high.

The primary purpose of the Latin club is to promote a spirit of unity and co-operation among those studying Latin. The motto of the club, "Fiat Lux," as well as its song, "Animus Waconis," fits approximately the aim and purpose.

The club has been very active in its service to the Latin department. Among the many things it has done are the paying for the registrations for the Tournament for both the school and the representatives; the buying of medals for fourth-year honor students; and obtaining interesting and valuable maps and pictures for the Department.

The aim of the French club is to encourage students of the French department to develop a liking for reading, literature, language, conversation pertaining to the French customs.

To reach this goal, French is the language spoken in the club meetings. Characteristic plays are given by the students; papers and speeches are prepared concerning great writers of France, and occasionally a French speaker appears before the club.

At the present the club is corresponding with French students using French as the medium of writing, while answers are received in English to encourage their foreign friends to learn the American language.

Maps, flags, pictures and dictionaries have been furnished the department by the club.

Four four years La Granada has catered to the interest of Spanish students. The purpose of the organization is to bring students together in an informal atmosphere where they may cultivate the habit of speaking Spanish. The club is fostering a friendship between those interested in Spanish in parts of the United States, Mexico, Central and South America.

The lives, habits, ideals, customs, language and commerce of Spanish speaking countries is studied. Programs consist of games, songs, plays, recitation and occasional lectures by native speakers.

The motto of the club is "All For One"; the colors are red and yellow and the flower is the pomegranate blossom, the national flower of Spain.

The founding of the Darden Literary Society dates back twenty years when it was first organized by Miss Annie Forsgard with boys as well as girls admitted to membership. At present only girls are admitted and there are eighty-five members. The club was named for W. E. Darden who was principal at the time of its founding and since then he has served on the school board and later as president.

Different phases of literature, books, authors and current events have been discussed at various meetings. Annually a pin, given by Mr. Darden is presented to the girl winning first in an essay or letter contest.

Every year it is the custom of the older members to ask younger girls to be their "little sisters". Then follows a series of meetings and socials with first wards, then "big sisters" occupying the center of attention.

MONDAY OFFICERS

ELIZABETH MORRIS . . . . . President
MARY KATHERINE SPENCER . . . . . Vice-President
TOMMIE DANIELS . . . . . Secretary-Treasurer
REECE HEARN, SARAH LEE JONES, BARBARA MORRIS . Accompanists

The Junior Glee Club has been organized for four years. It has grown steadily and now has a membership of 120 members. Anyone desiring to do so may join the Junior Glee Club but only by work can she go to the Intermediate and Senior Clubs. It is the "Cannon Fodder" of the Glee Club, so to speak.

The Junior Glee Club is divided into two groups: one meets every Monday, the other every Tuesday and both meet jointly every Wednesday.

The Junior do not appear in public ,but rather concentrate on blending their voices and working out the most outstanding defects.

The School Board bought a piano for Room 119 and it is now the home of the Junior Glee Club and part-time home of the Intermediate.

There is a feeling of closest harmony between the three Glee Clubs and the Juniors have for the past two years given an entertainment for the Team of the Senior Club. Last year they gave a Junior-Senior party in the High School Cafeteria but this year they gained confidence in themselves and because more ambitious.

On the night of April 18 the Juniors sponsored a banquet in honor of the Team and a delectable meal was served by Miss Jennie Hylton and her teachers to 150 people. We hope that this may become an annual affair—banqueting the Team.

Waco high school has been organized for three years as a school city with a city manager form of government. Five commissioners, one of which serves as mayor, are elected by popular vote by those paying a poll tax of five cents.

A high standing in scholarship is demanded of the executive and judicial officers and they must have been resident citizens for at least one full school year.

With the board of commissioners as a basis the school is governed much as a city. Ordinances are passed, most of them having to do with regulating the preservation of property in and about the school. Laws are enforced and fines are fixed by the student court headed by the judge.

The Girl Reserve organization, a branch of the Young Women's Christian Association, is a triangle club. The Girl Reserve triangle is to each of its members a constant reminder that she is striving to grow in body, in mind, and in spirit—the three sides of life necessary to make an all-round, worth-while girl.

Hikes and camps are the chief ways in which Girl Reserves grow physically. She who has attended and taken part in a camp, the chores, the sports, and the camp-fire, with its inspiring message of God's nearness, has an impression and an experience that can never be forgotten.

A Girl Reserve has high ideals, and to help her in striving to attain these ideals, she takes a strict Code as her guide when she is initiated.

A creditable record has been made during the past seven years by the Hi-Y club and during this period of time numerous developments have been noted. The Older Boys' Conference which was held in Waco in February of this year was judged one of the best ever conducted and no club has probably received more words of praise for the caring for the conference as the Waco organization.

Largely due to the interest of the Hi-Y the Junior Hi-Y and the "Y" clubs in the grade schools were organized.

Following the custom set six years ago at the beginning of the school year "Tiger Tales" was printed and distributed to the student body. This pamphlet carries all kinds of information.

This has been a year of useful activity for the chapter. On March 5, 1930, the first annual dinner and initiation of candidates before Masons and Past Master Councillors was held. This feature, inaugurated by the present officers and the advisory board proved very successful.

On April 23, 1930, the Hillsboro Chapter were guests of the Waco Chapter at an initiation.

With the formation of a Charity Committee help toward filling the library at the State Home for dependent and neglected children has been given. Places for several boys in homes where they can work and attend High School have been found.

The Forum Debating club was formed in March, 1916, by a few of the dissatisfied members of the Rostra. The club had eight charter members and it was feared that the school would not support two literary societies, but since that time the Forum has taken the lead in forensic activities, losing only one annual Forum-Rostra debate in eight years.

The Forum has produced many excellent debaters, declaimers, orators and extemporaneous speakers in its time. This year the club won over the Rostra in debate and declamation, but lost out in the district meet.

NUNC ET TUNC

MRS. MARIAN C. BUTLER, Sponsor

Nunc et Tunc came into existence six years ago through the efforts of an enthusiastic and able 10B class under the leadership of Mrs. Marian C. Butler, who is a gifted student and able leader. This year the twenty numbers issued in the five years were bound and presented to the library.

The articles and quotations found in this magazine are in demand for essays on classical subjects, for Latin club programs, and for background work in classes.

Several years ago Nunc et Tunc adopted its own Cicero's motto, "far to excel and tower above the crowd." The contributors and the sponsor have made an earnest effort to live up to this ideal, and felt that some progress had been made when recently the most critical of exchanges announced: "We can find no criticism to make. Nunc et Tunc has now reached the top of the list."

Another year has passed and the Rostra Literary Society has again made a place in the history of the school. This club traces its record to the beginning of the high school and claims the distinction of being the parent society of the Forum Debating Club. The Rostra still offers a spirited fight at the time of the annual inter-society debate.

There is a tradition that the Rostra had its beginnings in the shadowy ages of the past. Some declare that the founder had a Roman nose and that this fact put the members in mind of the Rostra or ship-beaks to be found in the Roman Forum; hence, the name Rostra. It is a fact, however, that the Rostra antedated the Daisy Chain by many years; for the Hub, the yearbook that preceded the Daisy Chain, mentions the Rostra meetings at least twenty years back.

HOME ECONOMICS

The home economics course in the Waco high school consists of two years in clothing and two years in foods, with their related subjects. Pictured below are only about half of this year's graduates who have specialized in "sewing a fine seam" and finding the correct "way to a man's heart." Some of the girls are even wearing the results of their own needle work.

The domestic science girls study textiles, design, color and other points pertaining to correct dress and put these theories into practice in the garments they make.

As to foods, they study and prepare suitable menus for all occasions.

Each year one of the looked-for events is the dress parade and the costumes worn then and others are put on display in the Cotton Palace Exposition. During the exhibition a booth is maintained where the girls cook and serve dainties to the sightseers.

The Genheimer Literary society, which is one of the oldest organizations in the school, was founded in 1915 by W. D. Blair. It was so named in honor of Principal E. T. Genheimer.

The purpose is to further an interest in literature and debating and to promote friendship among the girl students. Some of the ablest girl debaters have been trained and inspired through the activities of the club. Members of the club are among the leaders in the school curriculum.

During the past year the club has had excellent programs each week which have dealt with topics of local, state, national and international interest. Two major socials have been enjoyed.

TYPING CONTEST

The Annual Interscholastic Typing contest is held each year and is open to the first-year students, only. The state is divided into ten districts, the three highest individuals in each district contest going to the state contest. Waco is the contest center for District 7 with Mrs. Mary Tinus of Waco high as manager.

The contest took place April 19, with ten schools entered and thirty-five contesants present. Marjorie Warren of Waco won first place typing forty-eight words a minute. She will go to the state meet to compete there.

Last year Waco won first in individual and district and second in the state contest losing by one sixtieth of a point.

La Mesa Redonda was organized in October, 1929, by a small group of ninth grade Spanish pupils who realized, together with the Spanish faculty, that the size of the department made one club impracticable.

This enthusiastic group chose the name, "La Mesa Redonda" or The Round Table, to symbolize among other things the two-fold purpose: namely, study and fellowship, expressed in the club motto "Aprendamos Jugando."

La Mesa Redonda limits its membership to a small number because its double purpose can best be accomplished in a small group.

The club has given programs consisting of Spanish plays, games, songs, dances, contests, readings, music, all of which have helped to inspire a greater interest in the language and customs of Spanish-speaking peoples, at the same time promoting fellowship among the members who hope that they and all future members may "learn by playing."

TEXAS LATIN TOURNAMENT

The Latin department of the Waco high school takes an enthusiastic interest in the Texas Latin Tournament which is held each year in April. Preparation for the event begins in the spring immediately after the contest and all classes reap the benefit of more careful teaching and unflaging interest.

As evidenced by the results of the district tournament the Waco teams for 1930 were unusually strong. They won eight first places out of a possible ten, five second places out of a possible seven, and five of the six loving cups offered for the highest average made by school teams.

In the essay contest C. L. Morris, Gary McCall, and Stephen Huff won first place in their respective classes and William Snow, second place.

In the test taken on April 11 the January beginners, Frank Crippen and Joseph French made an average of 96.22. In the first year group Mildred Sterling won first place with a grade of 100. The first year team, Mildred Sterling and Olivia Guderian, with an average of 99.125 won the loving cup.

In the second year Mary Elewe Therrell and Jimmie Bell Fitzpatrick won first and second place respectively and the loving cup for highest team average. Thornton Sterling and Mary Powell did the same for third year and A. J. Smith and Mary Loughridge for fourth year.

The third and fourth year cups are now the permanent property of the school, having been won for three years in succession.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

THE DAISY CHAIN ANNUAL

The Daisy Chain Annual is one of the sacred traditions of the school. It is likewise a product of the students. Sometimes the staff is lost in the labyrinth of year book details, but before school is out the book is actually distributed much to the amazment of all. Pictures that were scheduled to be taken no less than three times, delayed because of Jupiter Pluvius, or the illness of Johnny Smith, do appear. Belated prophesies and poems do get printed at last. In short the pictorial history of the school year, in all its glory, compiled through much elbow grease does appear. Last year the book failed to be rated all-American by a hair's breadth, but former mistakes have all been avoided in this issue—we hope. Self-supporting, the annual raises its head proudly and proclaims that all of the endearing experiences of school life have been preserved as a glorious memento of "those blessed days."

THE HUACOAN

Each Friday morning of the school year bright and early the Huacoan is sold to the students of Waco High. It is a paper edited, managed and sweated over by the budding seniors who feel the urge to put the ink in their veins on paper. Editorial columns are filled with all news pertaining to school and faculty life with a fairish sprinkling of foolishness.

Enterprising young business men of tomorrow solicit ads and audit the books, most of these being connected with the business administration department, ably supervised by E. E. Mohundro, juggler extraordinary of decimals and per cents. The paper has never failed to be self-supporting.

High in her office three and a half stories high, Mrs. Billie Smith, editorial sponsor, blue pencil in hand, attempts, between classes, to teach the editorial staff the way of good journalism.

I'll probably amount to much,
But I shall stay the way I am
Because I do not give a . . . care."

—DOROTHY PARKER.

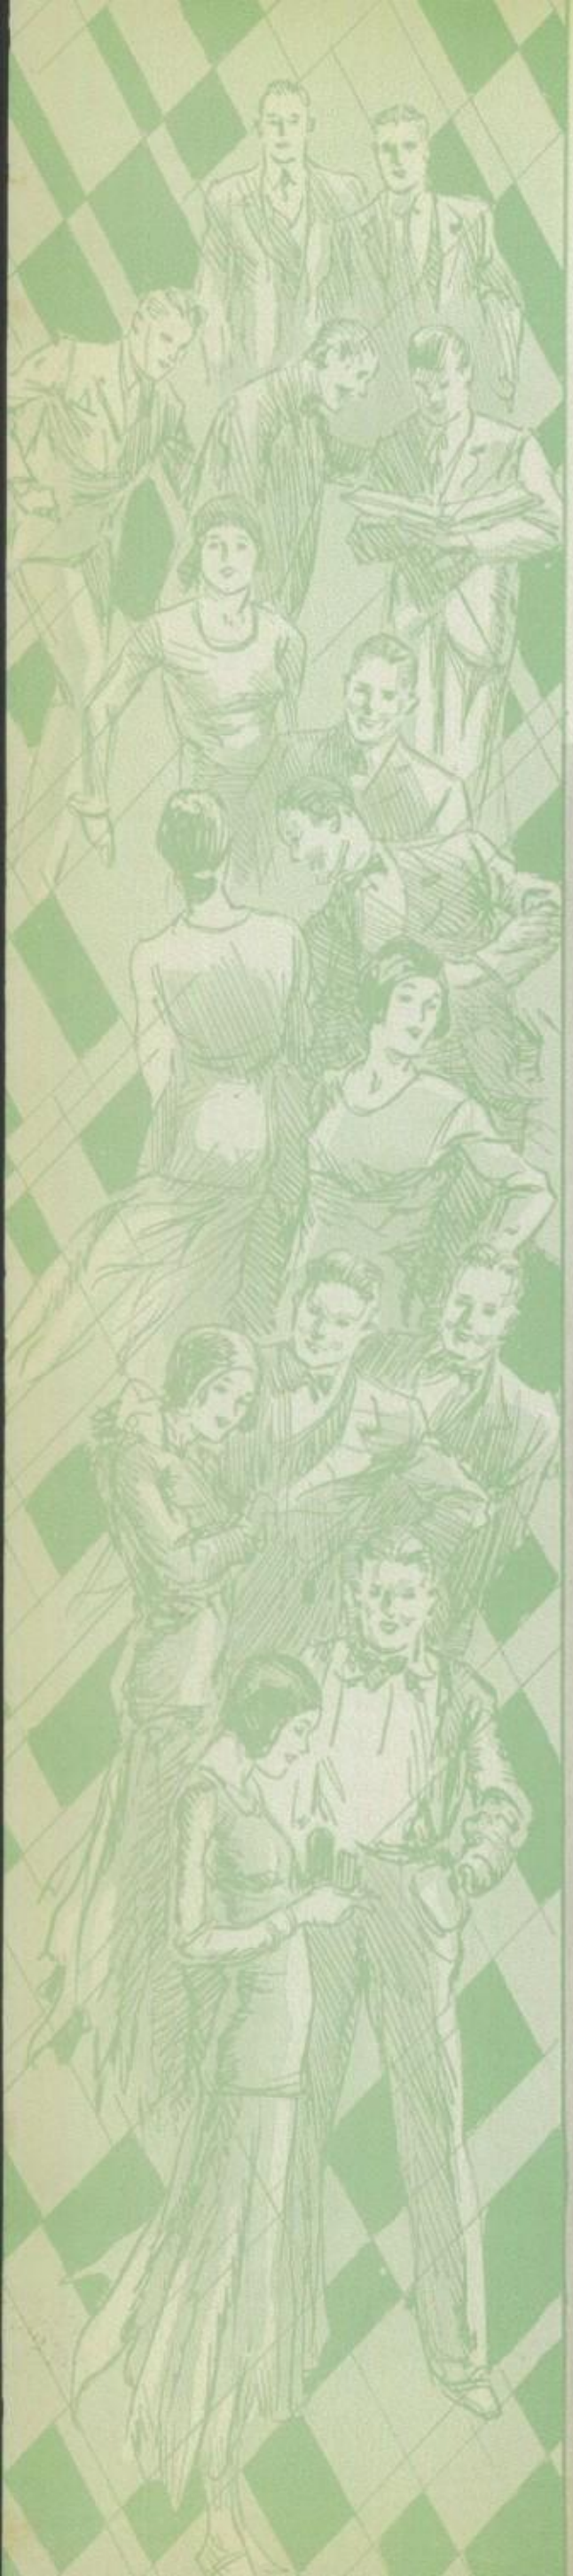
Practicing for a Ziegfield show
Or Rasch ballet, oh dear, me no!
Miss Morehead's girls are doing gym
To keep their health or else grow slim:
They do their stunts upon a horse,
An artificial one of course;
They twist and turn in exercising.
We must admit they're enterprising.

"Love is woman's moon and sun
Men have other forms of fun"
Just for instance, eating's one;
They can't stop when they've begun.
Then they like to have a fight,
Like to loaf both day and night,
Like to grin at sayings bright,
And to feel that they're all right.

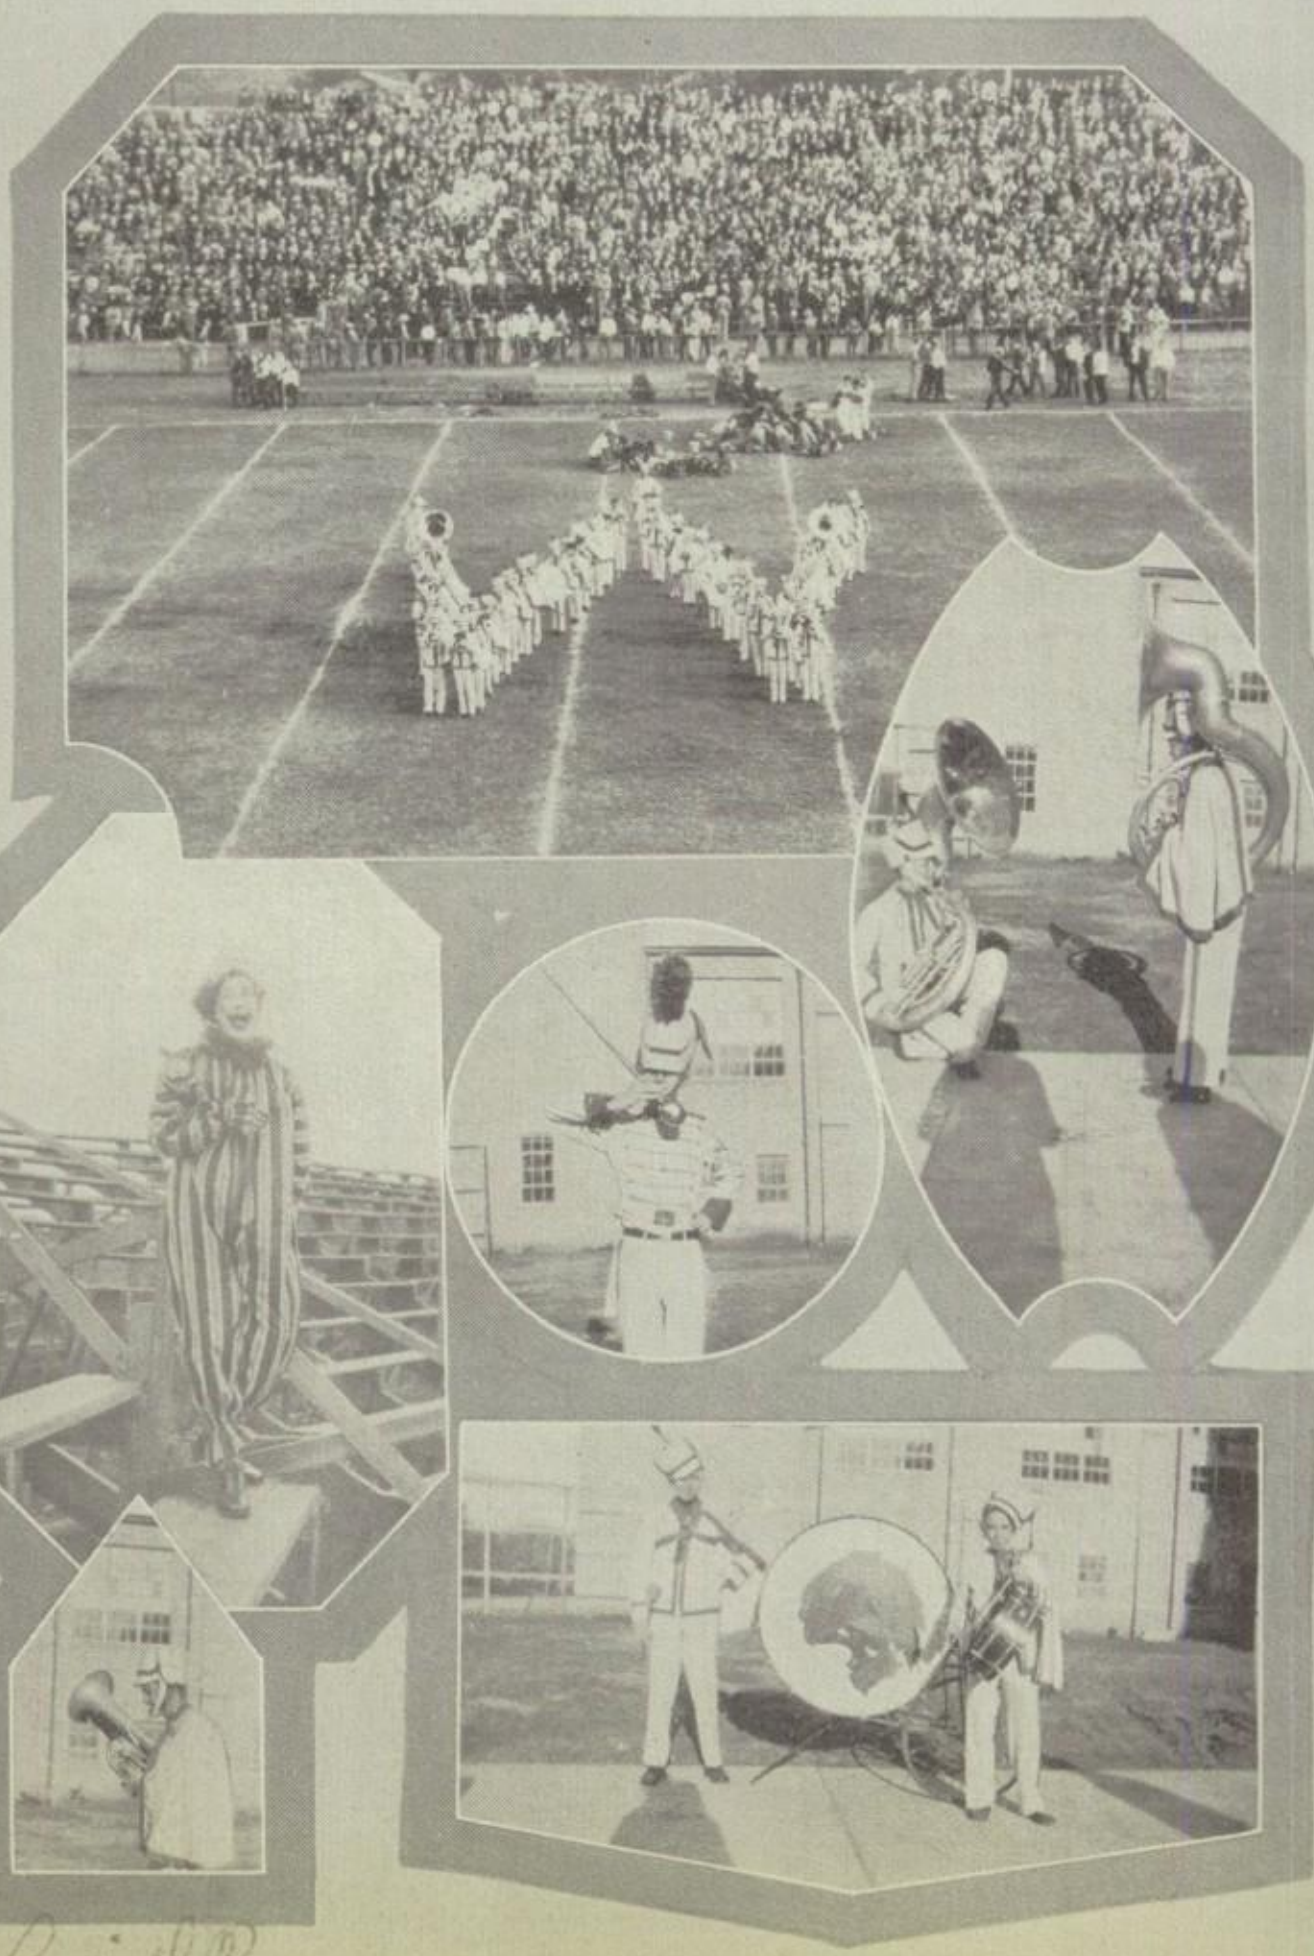
Entertainments every one
Are on the page below
The senior dance was lots of fun
As was the senior show.
Some dancers, a magician, too,
Performing with a jest,
John Williams, singer of the blues,
Are seen among the rest.

Jack Stenger

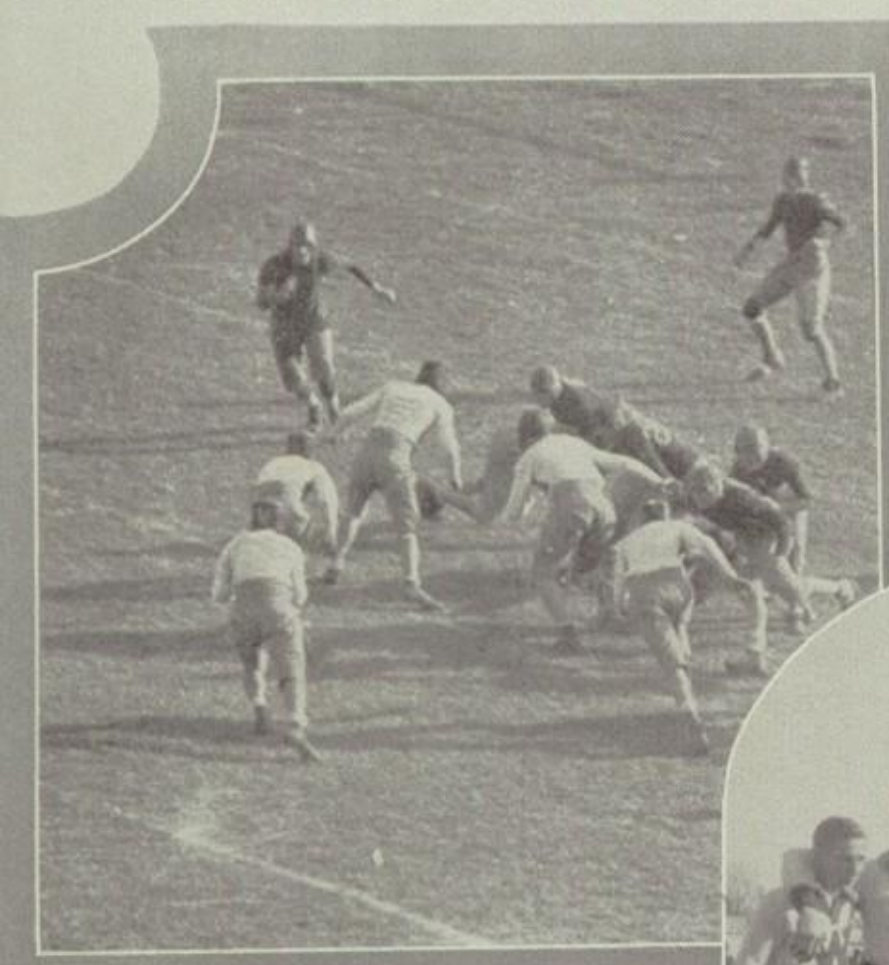
Now high school students like to play
At masquerading much.
So in the gym there walked one day
Some book people and such;
The characters endowed with wit,
Ones that we love and know,
And though we didn't pay for it
It was a clever show.

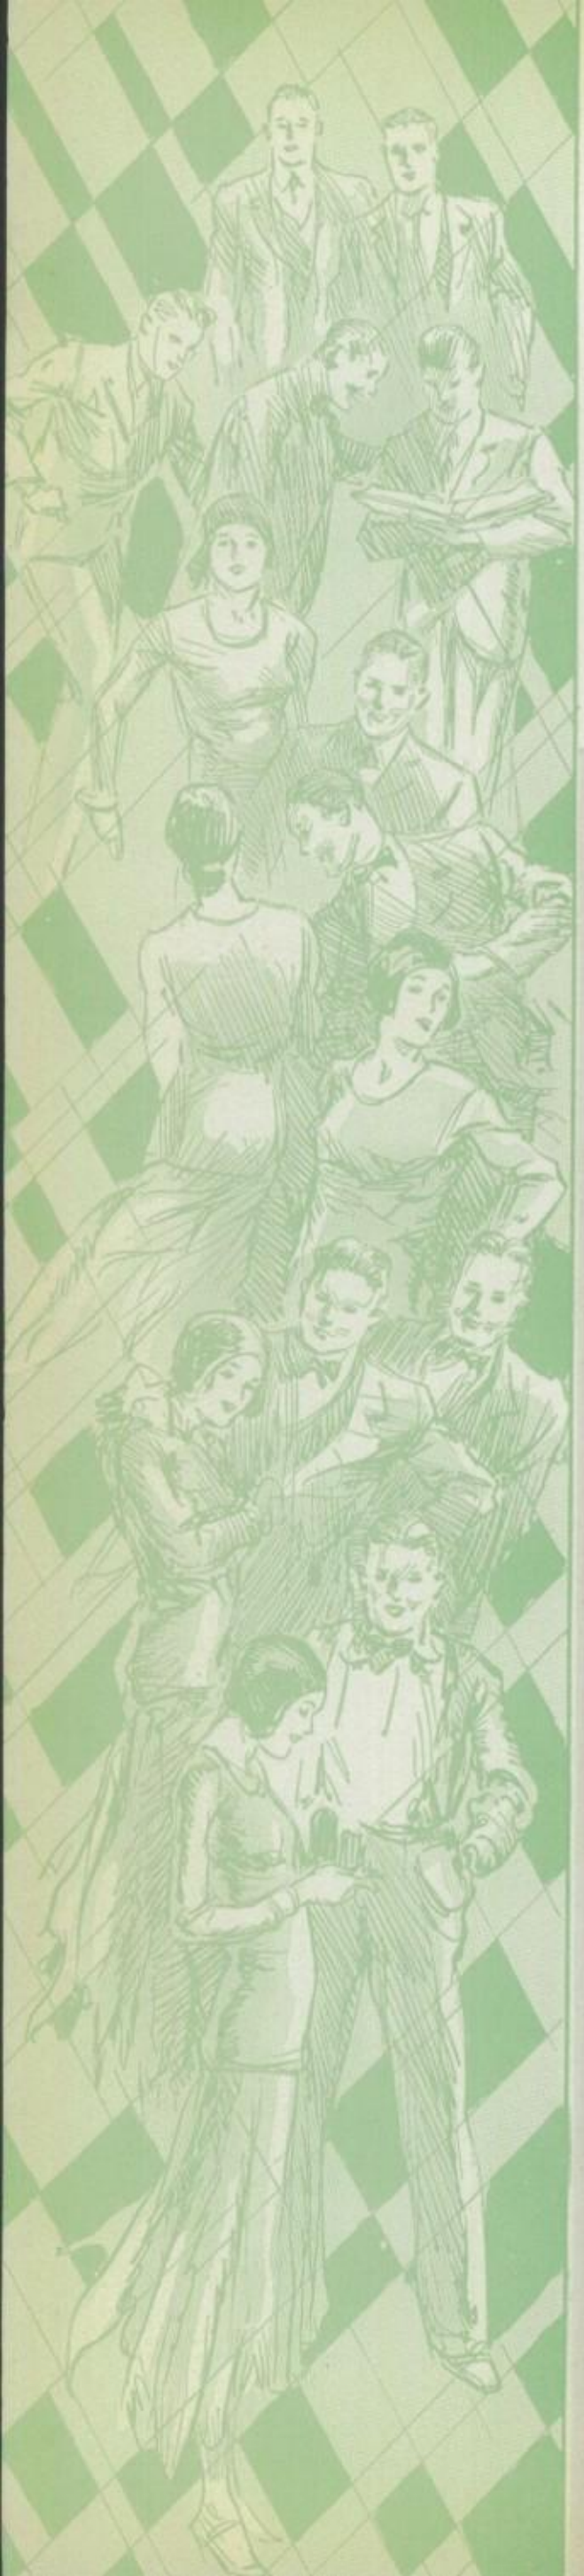


Says Leader Ford "Strike up the band!"
So they begin to play.
In uniforms they all look grand;
And no doubt feel that way.
A "W" they make for Waco Hi
Be weaving out and in;
Julius Boettger as a clown stands by
And watches with a grin.



Rah, rah, rah, rah, rah Waco High!
Sasser's pep girls get up steam;
Rooters flinging banners to the sky,
And yell for school and team.
The Tigers fighting to a man
Ready to do or die;
A "Horse" beside the flagpole stands
And sees the school pass by.





Maidens fair with raven tresses
To name them you have three guesses:
Two more girls with fairy feet.
Aren't their bows of ribbon sweet?
Some walk out of our school's door:
A slumber party attracts more.
Some lassies playing in the snow—
All these you see here just below.

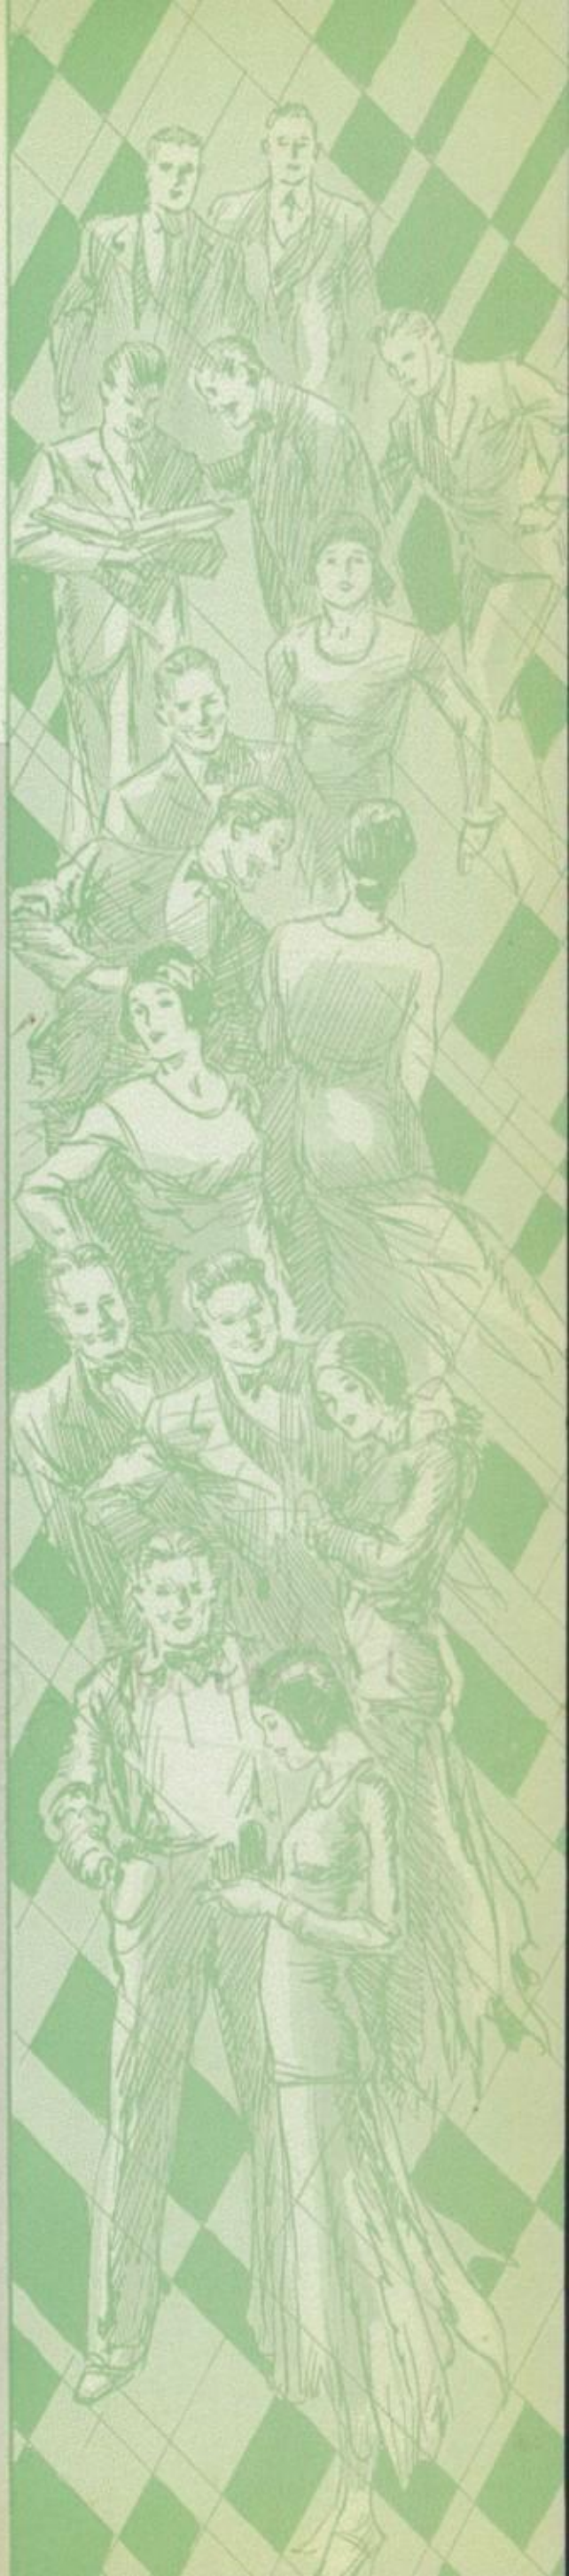
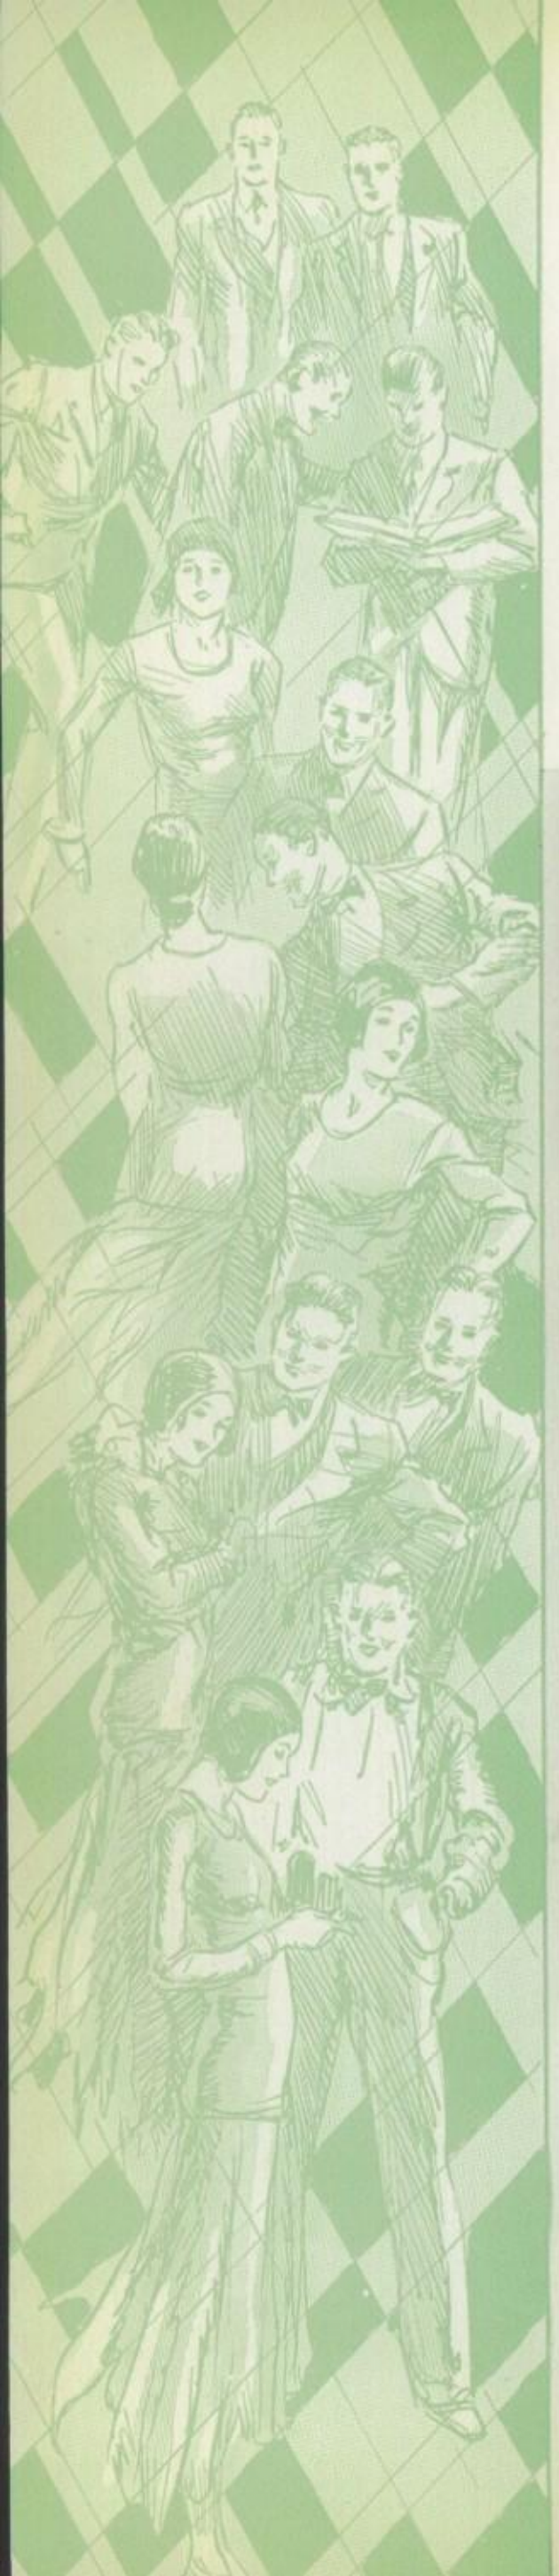
Me, oh my!
Waco Hi,
Truth to tell,
Has a bad spell
Of automobiles!

Painted signs
And designs
From top to horn,
They adorn
Our automobiles!

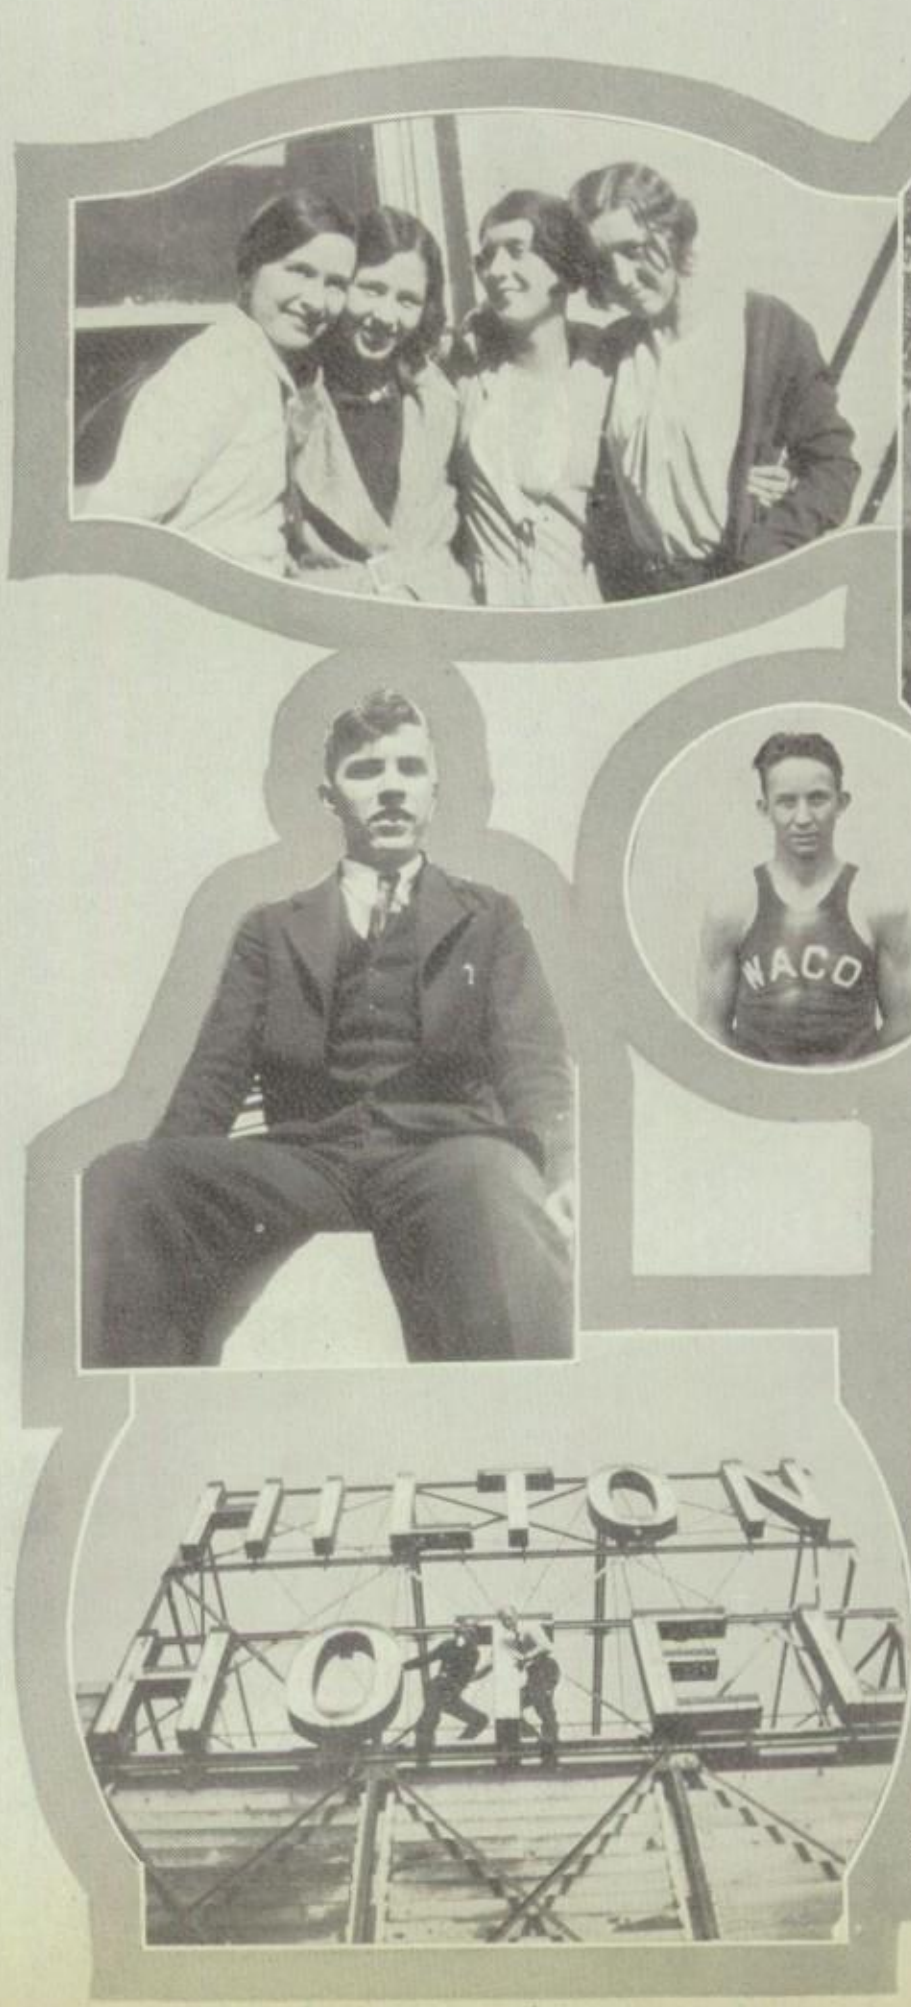


Oh! what fun
On the run
Dressed up queer
Full of cheer
Came the seniors
For a day
At their play
Kids once more
Frolics galore
On April Fool.

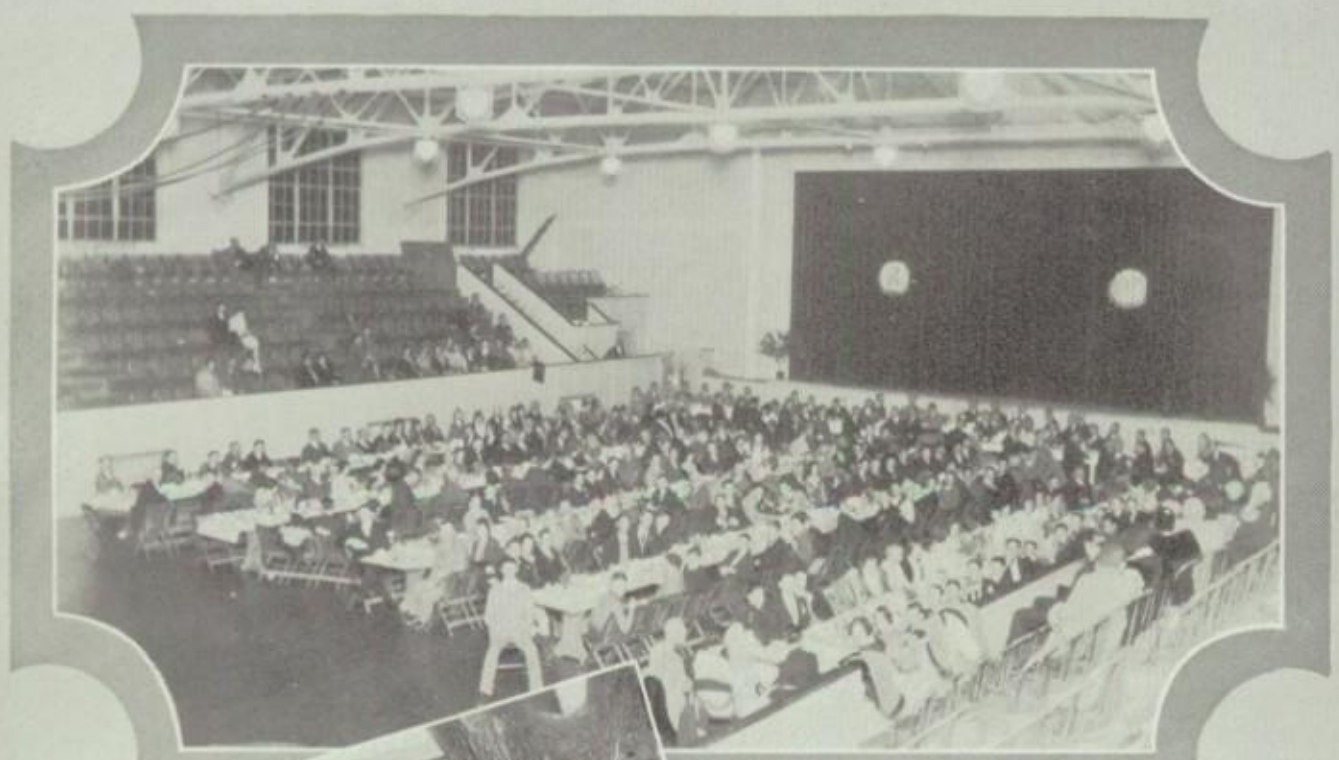
A page of couples here we find,
And one girl by herself
Dan Cupid to them all was kind,
That spritely little elf!
But troubles from Pandora's chest
Can bother couples, too,
When Cupid takes a needed rest
Or leaves the couples blue.



Hey! Hey! Hey! Hey!
What kind of men are these?
An editor and tumblers do I see
With steeple climbers, if you please.
Girligigs and girligags
Just as this old world wags.
And wags!
And wags!
And wags!



The Tigers say it is no feat
To end the season while they eat;
With toasts and talks and fun
Until the morning sun
Has said a glad good morning.
Hi-yers gather for a serious meet;
And girlies "say it" with their feet!



Margaret Hansen

There she stands, her flag in hand,
The winner of the prize so grand.
A Spanish group is out for air;
Just how did they get there?
The class play was a "cat"
And that is all of that!
No More!

Dear, oh, dear
We have them here
Wreathed in smiles
Without guiles
Our bosses!

In the class
First and last
They're for work,
They don't shirk.
They're our bosses!

The fair co-eds with beauty bright,
And youth in every grace,
As our dream girls, a charming sight,
In each heart take first place.
We catch their smiles as they pass nigh,
And treasure every prize;
For Waco High is lighted by
The laughter in their eyes!

COACHING STAFF

E. A. BERNHAUSER

Coach Bernhauser is Waco's line coach. He is the man that from year to year produces those steel walls, known as the Tiger line. He has been assisting Tyson since 1922 and these two men have become great buddies in the work of making a name for Waco High in football.

Besides being line coach Bernhauser has been handling the baseball team and until last year was track coach. In school "Dutch" teaches economics and judging from the way his classes are filled he is as popular in academics as he is in athletics.

Mr. Bernhauser has been offered numerous head-coaching jobs but he prefers to stay in Waco and help Tyson. He is a pal to all the boys and is ready to lend assistance to anyone at anytime.

DAN STALLWORTH

Known familiarly as "Dangerous Dan," Mr. Stallworth is also a recent addition to the coaching staff. For the past two seasons he has been chief sleuth for the Tigers in football and has coached the track team. He has also become generalissimo of the basketball coaches. This year his basketeers won the district title, for the first time in five years.

"D. X." has the knack of getting the most out of his men and distills in them the old fighting "spirit."

He is also a civics teacher and gym instructor, not failing to mention that he is Heaven's gift to the photographer's association.

H. G. PRINZING

"Heine" is the "bugology" instructor in our dear old school. He has been in Waco High as a teacher since 1926 but only lately has he assumed coaching responsibilities. He was graduated from Waco High later starring in athletics at T. C. U.

Last year he became All-Star coach and under his able direction the All-Stars gave the Cannon Fodder a miserable time. Besides this he was assistant to Mr. Bernhauser as baseball coach much to the chagrin of opposing teams.

This year his All-Stars again proved powerful and "Heine" has also turned to basketball and assisted Mr. Stallworth in building up a creditable basketball team. Prinzing is now head baseball coach and his proteges of this year got off to a flying start but were eliminated in the bi-district game.

J. W. HAWES

"Buddy" as he has been affectionately dubbed by his friends has been business manager of the athletic association since 1920. And this has been no small job. Everything that goes wrong with the athletic fund has to be solved by him. But he only smiles at troubles and counts hundreds of dollars with a sang froid that would become a D'Artagan. No one has ever seen him perturbed, yet, that is everything in his favor.

When he is not in his "counting room" he is trying to make his classes see through solids and such, being instructor in trig and geometry. He has all of the patience in the world and is never too busy to shoulder real and imaginary problems of youth he comes in contact with. Recently one of the boys put up a poster running him for sheriff, but who could imagine his "toting" a gun.

With four of Waco high's lustiest-lunged lads at the megaphones the football team maintained through the thick of fight the sacred tradition of the Cotton Palace gridiron. Never have the Tigers been defeated on this field, and judging from the backing made by this year's cheer leader if they do go down before an enemy team it will not be the cause of the yell leaders.

In rain or sunshine they were on hand in their gold and white uniforms to tell the grandstands how and what to do next with their:

WACO HOLDS CORSICANA AT THE GOAL LINE

J. Amos Phipps

JOHN POLLY

John was the captain of the club this season and one of the most consistent ground gainers of the team. He divided time with Seley at quarterback, and was one of the best captains that a Waco High team has ever had. He was well liked by all of the boys and we hate to state he has played his last game for the gold and white.

Although he has finished his career he won't be forgotten. When the members of this 1929 club gather round their children in the dim and dark future and tell them all about this great old Tiger team, you will hear the name Polly. He has inscribed his name into the hearts of the Tiger followers and a more deserving youth never led his club into battle.

JIM PHIPPS

Jim "Amos" Phipps is the captain-elect for 1930. He was the outstanding backfield performer for the Tigers this year, and his popularity is seen in that his team-mates elected him to lead the club next year. He played fullback and was a vicious tackler.

Besides his football ability "Amos" was a sensational forward on the Tiger court club. He was a dash man in track and the best player on the baseball team, playing any position. So he takes his place with glory as a 4 letter man, and enters the Tiger Hall-of-fame. Jimmy is a natural athlete and has a great future ahead of him. His "never say die" spirit and old fight makes him the best example of a Waco Tiger in any sport.

THE SEASON

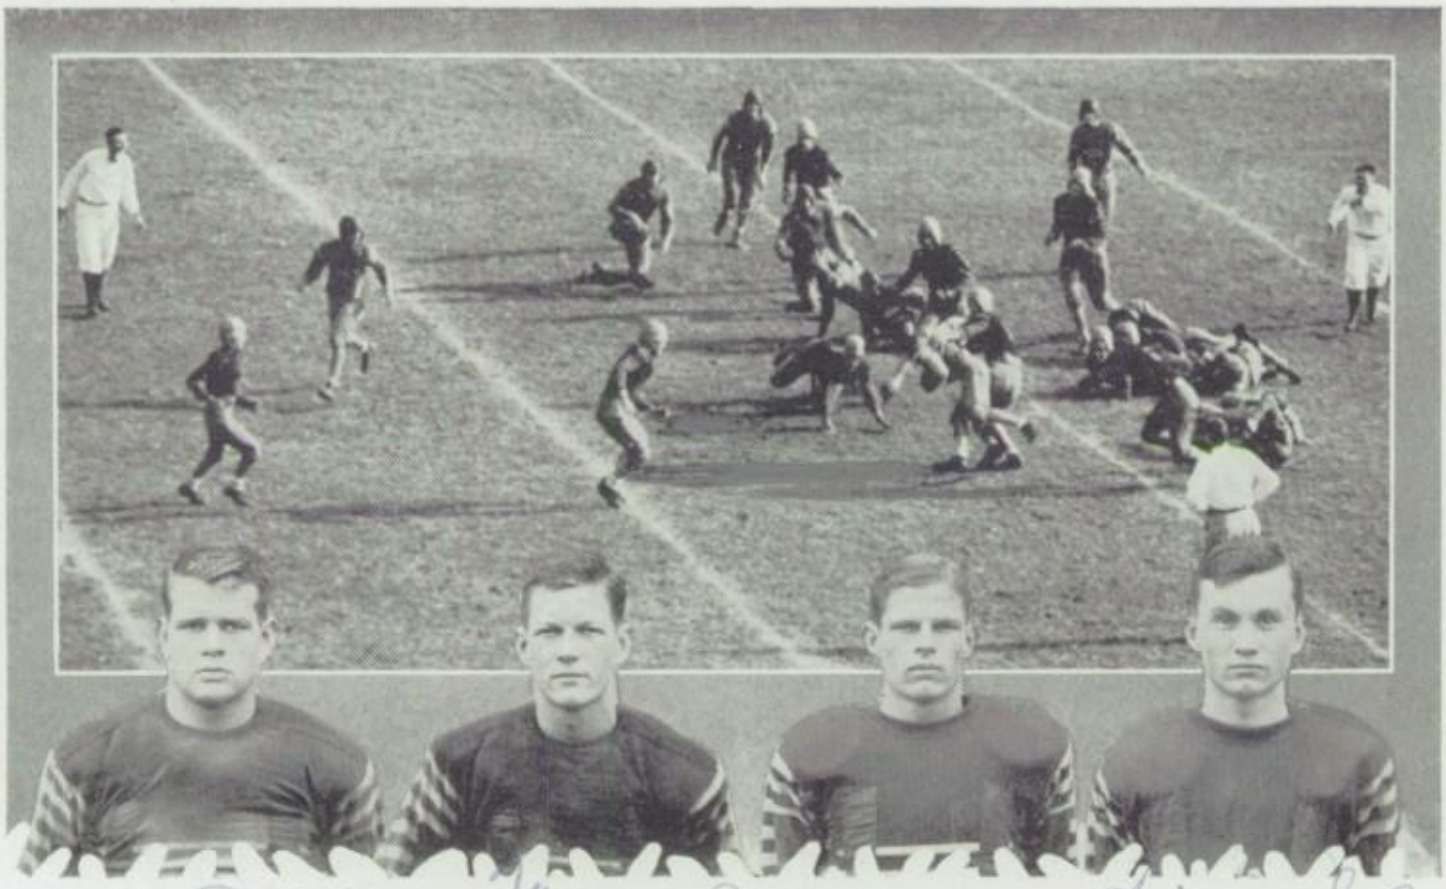
By LEDUS CURD

When the curtain rose on the 1929 high school grid race, fans throughout the state were shaking their heads and wondering what would be the fate of the Tiger eleven of this year. Nobody even gave the Tigers an outside chance of winning the district title. For the Tigers started the season with only 4 lettermen, Captain Polly, Pruitt, Royals, and Seley. Not a one of these lettermen was a regular starter in 1928. Most of the club was composed of last year's Cannon Fodder and All-Stars.

But lo and behold, Coach Tyson fashioned this green club into a snarling, fighting band of Tigers, the greatest team in the history of the Gold and White. And this band of youngsters fought their way into the semi-finals, and there lost a heartbreaking game to the Breckenridge Buckaroos, who later tied Port Arthur for the title.



POLLY CARRIES THE BALL AGAINST CLEBURNE

MABRY PRUITT

Mabry "Ounce" Pruitt played his second year as a regular and made the All-district and several All-State selections. He was Waco's best tackle and will return for his third year next fall.

TOM ROYALL

Tom "Ram" Royall was the sterling running guard who played his second and last year on the squad. He was one boy whose brilliant work was overlooked by most of the scribes, but the close followers of the Tigers knew his brilliance.

JAMES SHEAR

James "Swede" Shear was a halfback de-luxe and still a better wingman. He played his first game at end against Temple and he wasn't seldom circled. He was mentioned by a number of scribes as all-state timber. He will not be back.

WINTHROP SELEY

"Wimp" Seley was the heady field-general and safety man of the 1929 edition of the Tigers. This was "Wimp's" second year and he is due for a third. His work is always dependable.

BELTON

In the first contest of the season the Tigers defeated Belton High 30 to 0. The play of the Tigers in this game was ragged but at times flashed brilliantly.

GEORGETOWN

Next came Georgetown. The Tigers overwhelmed the Eagles 72 to 0, displaying a marked improvement over the form of the Belton game.

SUNSET

For the third game of the season the Sunset Bisons invaded our fair city with hopes of shattering that Cotton Palace tradition. But the Tigers tamed the Bisons 20 to 6, and had the ball on the six inch line when the final shot sounded. Seley and Polly starred in this game each making long brilliant runs.

ATHENS

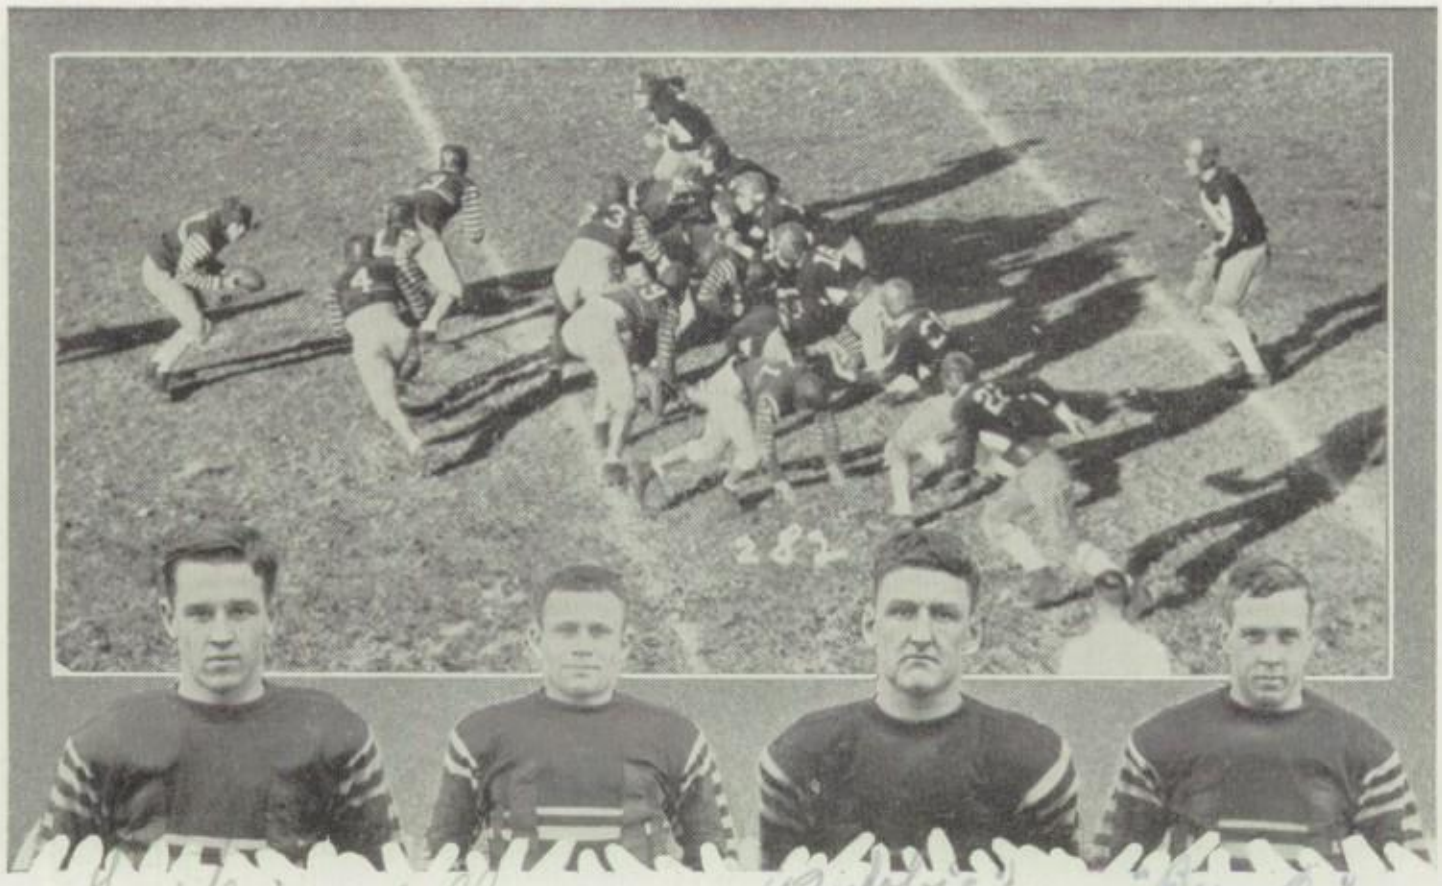
Showing vast improvement as the season grew older the Tigers next clashed with the Athens Hornets. The Hornets were National Basketball Champs last year, but lacked con-



PHIPPS, BUMPAS AND COMPANY PROVE TOO MUCH FOR TEMPLE

FOSTER BLAISDELL

Foster "Reisel" Blaisdell was a stronghold in Bernhauser's powerful line. He dealt many opponents misery in that line, and will deal more next year.

RAYMOND KRIZAN

Raymond "Dutch" Krizan, product of West Station, was the fastest man on the club. He could tear out on end runs like "nobody's business." This was his first year and he will hear many more starting whistles.

ZUBER McMILLAN

Zuber "Zubbie" McMillan was the Tigers' All-state center. He is a great football player and will be missed next fall. He was a splendid pass defense man and could block up that center hole.

ROBERT BUMPAS

"Bump" Bumpas was a stocky, sturdy half and fullback, who could lead interference and could also carry the mail. Bump was a punter and a line plunger. This was his first and last year, but his all-round ability will be sorely missed next fall.

THE SEASON (Continued)

siderable of being champions in football. They were snowed under 32 to 0 and the score would have been larger had not penalties deprived the Tigers of several touchdowns. The defensive work of Hunt and Barker in the line was brilliant, and so was the ball "toting" of Krizan, Phipps, and Seley.

HOUSTON

For their fifth and last practice game of the year the Tigers entrained and journeyed to Houston to take on the John Reagan Bulldogs of that city. The game was played on Rice field and proved a real battle. The final score was 13 to 6 in favor of Waco. Late in the game with the score 7 to 6 in favor of Waco, Coleman intercepted a pass and made a sensational eighty-five yard run for a touchdown to cinch the game for Waco.

HILLSBORO

The Tigers then returned to the Cotton Palace to open their conference season with the Hillsboro Eagles. Waco, sporting new white jerseys in place of the gold ones, turned in their

TIGER LINE HOLDS LIKE A BRICK WALL

BUDDY DRAKE

Buddy "Deacon" Drake was a galloping end on the Tiger eleven. "Deacon's" weakness is that collection plate. He ought to be a regular next season.

DUMONT HUNT

Dumont "Shotgun" Hunt was a tackle on the gold and white football bandwagon. He will be back next year and with his experience should lead the field.

JOE COLEMAN

Joe "What-a-man" Coleman is the boy who intercepted a pass and ran eighty-five yards for a touchdown to beat Houston. Joe is a halfback and will be back next year.

ALLEN MILLER

Allen "Star" Miller was a perfect end, and could snag pigskins out of the atmosphere with surprising regularity. He played his first, last and only year and closed his high school career in a blaze of glory.

THE SEASON (Continued)

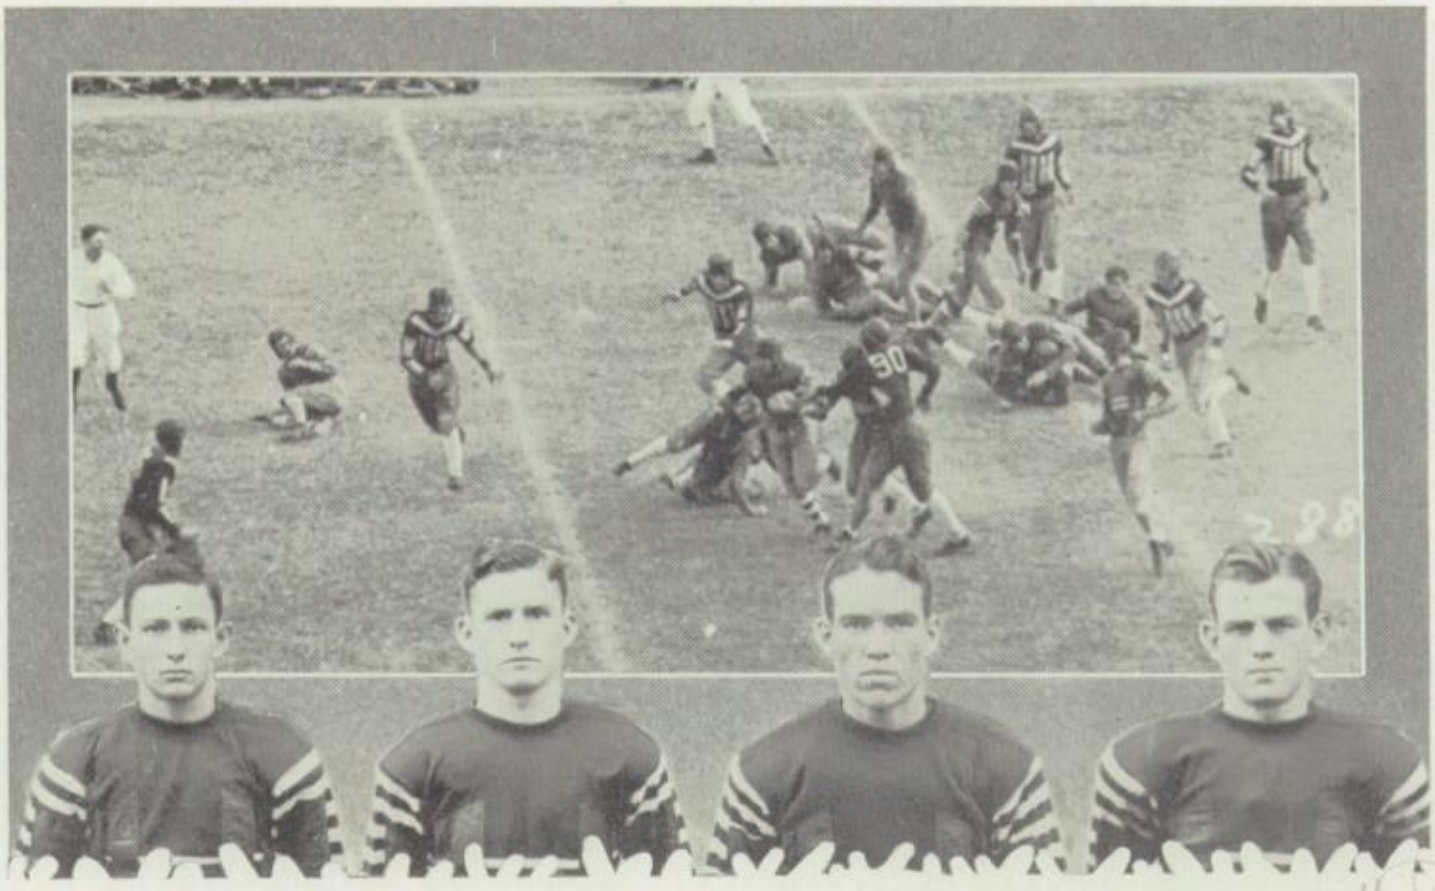
poorest game in five years. However the Tigers won 41 to 0 without showing a single thing to the many scouts present. The second string Tigers outplayed the first string in this game.

CORSICANA

Then came the game of games. It was a year ago when Corsicana unexpectedly defeated the Tigers and Shut them out of the finals for the first time, and every member of the Waco team was out for revenge. The Corsicana Tigers came here with the express purpose of breaking the sacred Cotton Palace tradition. But the Tigers showed sensational fight and turned back the invaders 6 to 0. For the day, Corsicana had the superior club but Waco out fought them. Waco held the foreign Tigers right on the goal line twice. The whole Waco team played a fine game, and for Corsicana the work of Stamps, a guard, and Wilson, quarterback, was outstanding.



FORT WORTH IS STOPPED BY PHIPPS AND HIS AGGREGATION

FRANK CONNALLY

"Franklin" Connally was a fighting end that just would not stay down. What he lacked in weight he made up in vigor and fight. He snagged passes and got tackles when he should have been "out of the picture." His absence will be felt next fall.

HUBERT CALLAN

Hubert "Red" Callan was the second string center and understudy to McMillan. When Zuber was out of the game Red took his place and the difference was hardly noticed. You will see Callan's "flame-thached" head again on the field next year.

EDWARD MARION

Ed "Kopecky" Marion was one of the biggest boys on the team this year. This was his first year and he should be a tower of strength in the forward wall in 1930, and that is not good news for the Tiger rivals.

ORVILLE CREASEY

Orville "Dog" Creasey also played end in great style. He was hard to circle and was a real pass receiver. He played his last season this year.

WAXAHACHIE

The third conference game with the Waxahachie Indians was won by the Tigers 45 to 0, most of the game being played on a sea of mud, during a driving rain. The Indians were the weakest club the Tigers met and had the game been played on a dry field the score would probably have been doubled.

CLEBURNE

Scenting a district title the Tigers went into the game with Cleburne full of confidence. Cleburne scored in the first quarter when Brandon made a brilliant forty yard run for a touchdown. Waco, fighting madly, drove over a score late in the last quarter, and while 12,000 people held their breath Miller place-kicked perfectly for the extra point to win the game 7 to 6. This was the most thrilling game of the season.

BRECKENRIDGE WINS SEMI-FINAL BATTLE

WENDELL SIMPSON

"Suitcase" Simpson was one af the main stays this year. He will be back next year and much is expected of him. He was one of the big reasons why Waco High bounded into the semi-finals.

HENRY MEADOWS

Hank "Blondy" Meadows was a plunging fullback and knew how to back up that line. He will be back next season and much is expected of him.

THEODORE BARKER

Theo "Roosevelt" Barker is a guard and a good one. He ought to be a regular next season, however he saw much service this year.

PETE CREVELLE

"Piccolo" Pete played end and did a good job of it. Pete's weakness is—well, we won't tell but he should shine next fall as a regular wing.

TEMPLE

With the district title at stake the Tigers invaded Temple the day before Thanksgiving, to battle the Wildcats. The Wildcats had been kicked around all year but boasted of the heavist team in the district. This game was expected to be a battle but Waco won easily 20 to 0. McMillan, Waco center, played his best game of the year, starring on both the offense and defense. Bumpas Starred on the offense as did Phipps and Miller. Miller on the famous end-around play gained ground for the Tigers.

CENTRAL HIGH OF FORT WORTH

Getting out of the district the Tigers next encountered the Central High Panthers of Fort Worth, champions of District 3, in the first bi-district clash of the year. The game was played on the Cotton Palace field. Waco won 12 to 0 but the play of the Tigers disappointed the coaches and fans.

BRECKENRIDGE

Now we come to the said part of the season's play. Waco, champions of Districts 3 and 4, journeyed to Breckenridge to clash with the Buckaroos, champion of districts one and two. The Buckaroos scored first on a long pass and kicked the goal which made the score 7 to 0, and that is how the half ended. Waco came back in the third quarter to score a touchdown but failed to kick goal. At this stage Coach Tyson sent in numerous substitutes. Breckenridge then hurled another long pass to run the score up to 14 to 6 and that is how the count stood when the final shot was fired. The Magness brothers and Graham starred for Breckenridge, while McMillan carried honors for Waco.

The Tigers did not win a championship this year but in carrying his green team to the semi-finals Tyson overcame the seemingly impossible. Waco scored 304 points to their opponents 32, and again the Cotton Palace tradition remains unbroken. This was considered by many to be the greatest fighting team in the history of the school; no greater tribute can be paid the coaches and boys.

WE RING THE BASKET

Posed by Yvonne Laughlin

"Lancelike your courage, gleaming swift and strong."

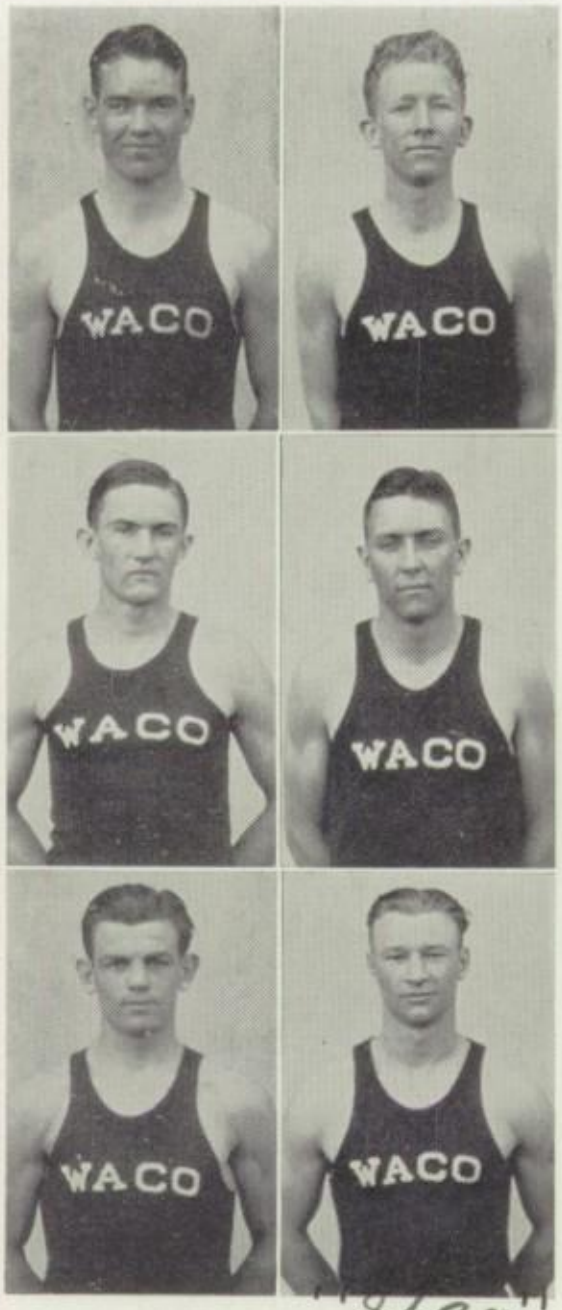
—DOROTHY PARKER

ED MARION was captain and center of the club this year. He started the season at guard but was shifted to center. His best bet was his defensive play. This was his third year on the club and he will be back next season.

JIMMY PHIPPS playing his first year ended the season at the other forward post. He was shifted from guard to forward and there found his position. He was the sensation of the district meet, rolling up a total of 62 points in 4 games. He will be back next season.

ORVILLE CREASEY started the season at forward but was shifted to guard. He made a valuable running guard because of his defensive ability and accurate eye for the basket.



GORDON HILLEY played his second and last year at forward on the Tiger five. He had a wonderful eye for the basket and was the leading scorer.

HOBART HOWELL was the standing guard and filled his position well. He was the best defensive man on the club and he used his height and weight to a great advantage, enabling the Tigers to go far in the race.

ALLEN MILLER was the running mate of Bibbs. He was not so tall but had a good eye for the basket. His humor always kept the boys' morale on a high plane.

THE SEASON

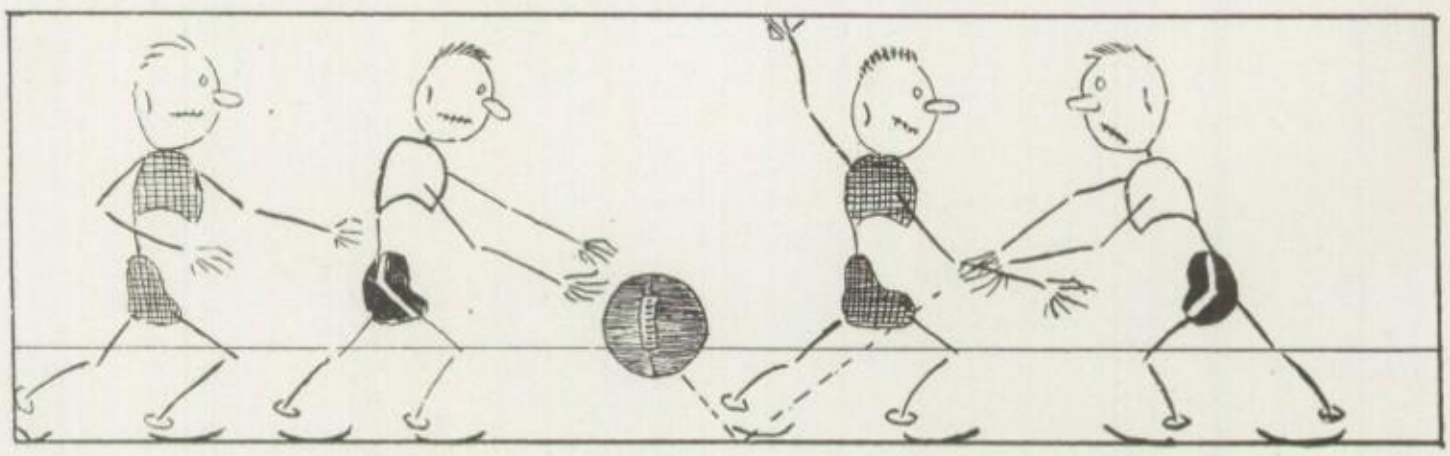
The Tigers had the most successful basketball season this year since 1922. For the first time in five years the Tigers won the district championship. Dan Stallworth is to be congratulated on the fine showing of the club this season.



Jack Bibb

JACK BIBB also played the forward position. He was small in statue, but he made it up in fight. He was death on close shots and could sink some of the craziest shots ever seen on the local court.

WILLIAM TIETZ, elongated youth, played center. His great height gave him a decided advantage over his smaller opponents.

TOM ROYALL was a powerful guard on the Tiger cage team. If Tom could not prevent a shot without fouling he would just take a body block into his opponent.

GREGORY FANNIS played the guard opposite Royall. He used wrestling tactics with much success.

MORRIS LEE, recently from Wichita Falls, was a sub-forward and gave a good account of himself whenever he was used.

CHARLIE FRIERSON played nearly any position and should prove successful next spring.

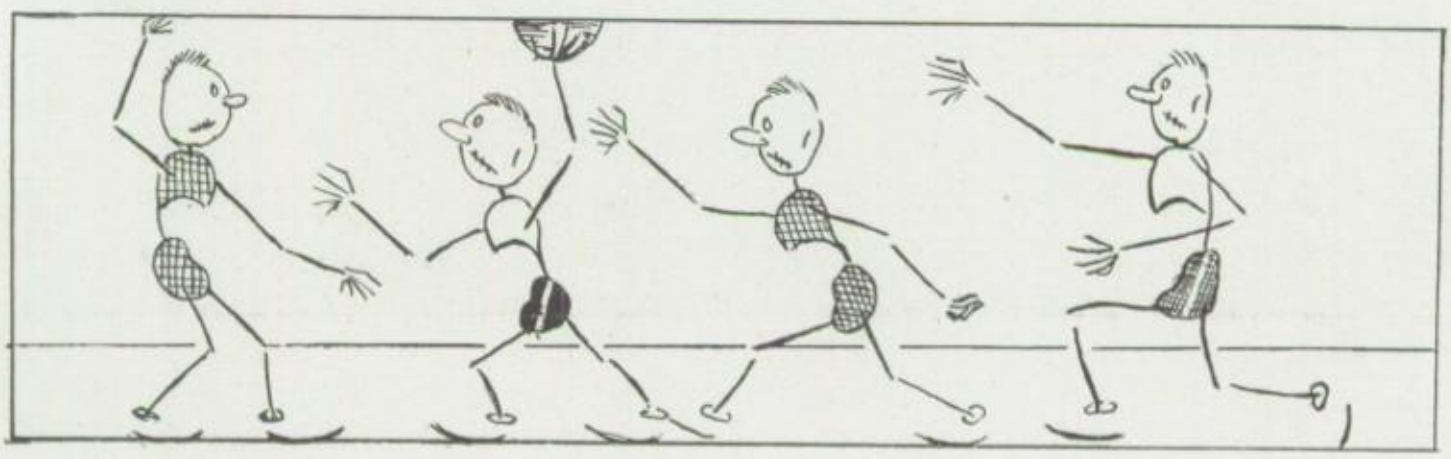
SEASON (Continued)

Waco played a most representative schedule and won 9 out of 16 games. Hilley was high point man for the season with 124 points, but was closely followed by Phipps who scored 92.

The Tigers opened their season with a win over the North Dallas High team by a 17 to 15 score. Hilley starred for Waco and looped 3 baskets.



Waco then journeyed to Austin and lost two games to Bennie Strickland's fast moving Maroons by the scores of 22 to 13 and 23 to 18. Both of these were great games.

The Tigers then took on Temple at Temple and emerged victor in an extra session game by the count of 31 to 24. Tietz was high point man for Waco with 9 points closely followed by Creasey with 8.

The Baylor Cubs took on the Tigers the next week, and after a merry battle defeated Waco 17 to 13 in a game which went two extra periods.

Austin then came to Waco and took two more games from the Tigers by overwhelming scores of 45 to 18 and 31 to 15.

Corsicana followed close on the heels of Austin and took a game from the Tigers 21 to 16.

Then Stallworth began experimenting and shifted the lineup. This change helped and immediately the Tigers began to improve. Temple was downed easily on the local court 23 to 16 and Cleburne was beaten 32 to 24. Hilley was high scorer in both contests.

Second Row—TIETZ, HOWELL, CREASEY, MARION, G. HILLEY, PHIPPS, MILLER, BIBB.

Then the Tigers met Gatesville and Charlie Taylor's Hornets were snowed under 29 to 14.

Then came the district meet and it found the Tiger club in the best shape of the year. Wortham fell in the opening round to the Tigers by a 40 to 21 count. Phipps, shifted from guard to forward, got "Hot" and scored 18 points.

Belton was defeated next 29 to 15. Phipps again scored 18 points.

In the semi-finals Mexia was beaten in a good game 22 to 12. Hilley with 8 points was the outstanding Tiger performer.

Next Waco met Rosebud, conqueror of Temple, for the district championship. The first half was quite a battle and ended with the Tigers in the van by only 3 points, 15 to 12. But in the last half Waco came back and led by Hilley and Phipps, the star forwards, amassed a total of 40 points. Phipps scored 21 and Hilley 15. Phipps was the star of the meet scoring a total of 62 points in 4 games.

And last, Waco met Corsicana on the Trinity University gym floor for the bi-district title and the right to enter the state meet. The first half was the greatest battle we have ever seen and ended in a deadlock of 13 to 13. But in the last half Jeffries, small but brilliant forward of the Corsicana club, got right and the final shot found the Tigers trailing 29 to 20. Thus ended one of the most successful basketball seasons ever seen by this old school.

Ed Marion was captain and center of the team and although not such an accurate shot was a good defensive man and when not playing center he played guard. Tietz divided time at center. Hilley and Phipps were the first string forwards and were the Tigers' main offensive threats. Two good reserve forwards were Miller and Bibbs. Creasey and Howell held down the guard posts well. Besides guards Royall and Fannis also showed up good.

CAPTAIN MILLER

WIELD THE BAT

The Tigers had a good baseball team this year. Heine Prinzing was head coach for the first time and the Tigers went to the bi-district in the Interscholastic league race.

Waco's pitching staff was greatly weakened in mid-season due to the loss of a star right-handed pitcher but Brooks and Marion, both left-handers did fairly well.

Among Waco's victims was the Hillsboro Junior College, whom the Tigers took into camp 3 to 1 in the first game, while the collegians won the second contest.

Phipps and Capt. Miller were the hitting stars of the club as well as the best all-round men.

The Tigers played 11 games, winning 8, tying 1 and losing 2.

KICK UP CINDERS

CAPTAIN MEADOWS

The Tigers after winning two successive district titles did not do so well this year. Bailey, distance man, was the only letterman returning. The track team is coached by D. W. Stallworth.

The Fort Worth Fat Stock Show meet was the first meet the Tigers entered. They did not place in this meet, however.

Next they attended the S. M. U. Relays and placed in the 880 yard relay.

In a triangular meet with the Baylor Cubs and Lorena the Tigers emerged second, with the Cubs winning. In a dual meet with the Cubs, the Tigers were defeated.

Waco was third in the district meet with 16½ points. Kosse won the meet scoring 20½.

The temporary loss of Bailey, due to an early season accident, kept the Tigers from doing any better in some of the meets.

Second Row—REAGAN, LOVING, PEEVEY, BLOUNT, MCMILLAN, KRIZAN, WILKINS, DE MANCHE.
Top Row—STALLWORTH, TIETZ.

CAPTAIN DUPREE

TEE THE TURF

GEORGE AULBACH, Coach

Among the innovations of the year at Waco high is the golf team. For several years interest in the game has sprung up in the early spring only to die an untimely death for lack of guiding enthusiast. This past spring Bob Dupee became interested and a permanent organization was perfected.

Mrs. Billie Smith and Miss Bertha Hotman are sponsors of the club and George Aulbach is coach.

Tournaments were held with a number of teams near and far. The season closed with a tournament for the junior championship of Waco, being open to all high school golfers.

COACH JACKSON

The Racquet club was organized this year with R. D. Jackson coach and sponsor. There are approximately thirty-four girls who have become interested in tennis. The purpose of the organization is to promote interest in tennis and to afford the girls wholesome recreation and social hours.

The club was represented at the Interscholastic League meet for District 14 held at Waco. Although Waco did not win, the club hopes to give next year's contestants stiff competition.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

FOR GIRLS

MOOREHEAD

Fully five hundred girls are enrolled in Physical Education work and 100 in Hygiene under the direction of Miss Emma Moorehead.

The year's work has consisted of games and formal drills in the fall and winter. Basketball was a popular activity through January and February.

The new equipment added to that which was already here has allowed much training on the apparatus.

For the spring term baseball and valley ball have held sway.

A new uniform for the girls has been adopted and has been in use during 1929 and 1930 terms, taking the place of the old-fashioned bloomers and middies.

The girls in Hygiene have made a thorough study of contagious diseases, their causes and results.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

FOR BOYS

STALLWORTH

This department is under the supervision of Dan Stallworth. This past year there were over two hundred boys enrolled in these classes.

Classes are conducted on an arranged schedule, and this work includes formal gymnastics, physical training, and games.

Certain days during the term are taken up with gymnastics, which includes work on the parallel bars, horizontal bars, horse, rings, and tumbling. Other days are taken up with calesthenics and corrective exercises. Others are given over to games such as volley ball, relay races, basketball, soccer, and others.

New equipment has been added including a vaulting back, rowing machine, a wall pulley, and boxing bag and ring.

Boxing and wrestling have also formed a part of the program.

"And How!"

WHEN TO BE NONCHALANT

(All Murads omitted please!)

When Mr. Genheimer walks calmly in the Huacoan office when a "knock down and drag out" is going on.

When Miss Annie asks where your slip is at the third period.

When Mr. Huddleston says that an experiment is due to blow up in two seconds.

When Mr. Jackson says "Notebooks are due Friday."

When Mr. Bernhauser calls you "Urchin."

When you take a double header down three flights of stairs.

When you discover that your cap and gown are about five sizes too large.

When a teacher suddenly appears on the scene when you're holding hands with your honey.

When you get caught sliding down the bannisters.

When you discover that you're the one Mr. Genheimer is pointing at in assembly.

When you've swallowed your chewing gum in math class.

When your false knot falls off the back of your head.

When the teacher finds your notes and reads them.

When you sneak in school late after lunch and your beads break and echo all through the hall.

When you lack one lunch check of having enough to pay for your meal.

When you have to have a book for book report next day and you find it is 500 pages long.

When you forget your lines in the class play.

When Mr. Tyson looks at you and says, "Hmmm!"

When you accidentally drop a razor blade over the railing in the upper study hall.

When your teacher sits down on a tack that was meant for somebody else.

APRIL FOOLISHNESS

PRATT PRACTICES PUBLIC PRESIDENTIAL PROMISES

According to Eavesdroppers, Del Pratt has been orating for many weeks, before the mirror, on his campaign speeches for President of the Senior class next June. This is only one of his many speeches.

"My most honorable and dear ladies and gentlemen and teachers, it gives me most unequaled pleasure to stand before you on this beautiful day. And now ladies and gentlemen open your ears to the promises that I as a candidate of the Free Thinking and Free Doing Party hereby promise you if I am elected.

1. The punishment for chewing gum shall be, that the chewer shall be compelled to loaf for three consecutive days.

2. The boys will be given the privilege of choosing the girls that they wish to be in their classes.

3. There will be ice cold pop in the summer, and hot chocolate in the winter served at the end of every period.

4. Those wishing may have assembly every day and those not caring for the such may rest themselves on the lounges that will be placed in the senior section of assembly.

5. Fifty is to be the passing grade and there will be no final exams unless the students especially desire it.

Now, my dearest fellow students, I hope I may depend on your most cherished votes and Au Revoir until I have practised some more on my other speeches.

SO ARE WE ALL FOOLS

Mr. Barnum, himself in person, declared that a fool is born every minute. Since the students of Waco High are every one indebted to him for our charming presence, it is fitting for April Fool's day to be dedicated to Mr. Barnum.

There is also a saying that there is no fool like an old fool but I dare any one to find more fools than this illustrious building contains. The fools in question are not over 90 years of age or under 0 year but they are fools nevertheless.

I'm a fool, you're a fool, we're all fools, but aren't everybody. Here's to the bughouse, may it prosper and always be filled.

BERNHAUSER GIVES CHOICE OF RECIPES

"Mmmm! Mmmm! Sure smells good. Now boys take two cups of sugar." The preceding quotations are some of the ones heard in professor Eli Antony Bernhauser's Cooking Class for love sick bachelors. Professor Bernhauser states that although the class is almost full at present there is still room for a few more bachelors who are willing to take the oath and swear off women for life. At their last meeting boys present learned how to make "Toast a la Kisses." During a recent interview Professor Bernhauser stated that his favorite recipe was as follows:—

1 dozen kisses.

3 cups sweet words.

2 dozen hugs.

½ cup of hearts.

½ pint loving glances.

Place all ingredients in large mixing bowl and stir until thick. Place in pan greased with lipstick. Bake in moderate oven until it turns bright black, and then set on fire escape to cool.

All boys who are present at the next meeting will get a chance to taste some of this wonderful cake.

PRINZING CREATES NOVEL HOPE CHEST

After many, many, unfruitful attempts, we have at last succeeded in gaining none other than "Honey" Prinzing as our new sewing instructor.

Master Prinzing cuts a very youthful and charming figure in his wee sewing apron, and he is now very busily engaged assisting the sewing students in sewing for their "hope" chests, as he has already finished his.

Next week they will begin making rompers, and we are indeed grateful for the service of so delightful an instructor.

HELP-RESCUE SQUAD

The rescue squad worked feverishly with jacks, sledges, and acetylene torches, while police fought furiously to keep back the crowd.

"Wait!" shouted the squad boss. "Let's see if he's still conscious."

There was a breathless silence. The squad leader took a hammer and tapped the wall three times and there was an answer. The crowd cheered.

"Cut out that noise, can't you? We might save him yet."

A hole was drilled in the wall and the answer came, "Hurry—I—am—about—to suffocate."

The rescuers attacked the wall with savage activity and crambars and hatchets. The harriers creaked and gave away. The man staggered out and all but collapsed.

A dozen cameras clicked, six sight and sound newsmen turned on the equipments that had been aimed for two hours.

Then a dozen reporters crowded around and all asked the same question.

"How did you ever get in that telephone booth in the first place, Mr. Prinzing?"

BEFORE THE FLOOD BEGAN

Characters:—Mr. Noah, Mrs. Noah, reporter for the Jericho Times.

Time:—About eight o'clock in the evening.

Place:—Before the Ark.

Noah:—(To Mrs. Noah) My dear I wish you would please see that reporter while I check up on the elephants.

Mrs. Noah:—(Yawning) Oh, another one of those pests? They are as bad as the tarantulas, always under one's foot. Well, call him and I'll answer his questions. (Exit Mr. Noah), (Enter reporter).

Reporter:—I am representing the Jericho Times and I am desirous of an interview with you. Now just when do you expect the flood? Do you find the animals companionable? What cigarets do you endorse?

Mrs. Noah:—(breathless) Really I prefer Murads, because they help one to preserve a nonchalant air when a hypo bursts in the parlor and—

Reporter:—(Interrupting) What is your opinion of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals? Nice little boat you have here. Do you expect to use it as a boarding house after the flood? Oh er—(jumping aside) What was that?

Mrs. Noah:—Oh don't be nervous that was merely one of the rhinos. He must have escaped while Mr. Noah was washing behind the elephant's ears.

Reporter:—Gracious, it's beginning to rain. I guess I had better leave. The flood will begin soon, now, I suppose.

Mrs. Noah:—Yes, I suppose so and oh, Reporter, be sure to have the editor spell my name correctly. (Reporter back off stage) (Enter Mr. Noah).

Mr. Noah:—So he finally left?

Mrs. Noah:—Yes, thank heavens. But imagine my embarrassment. I thought he would stay for supper and the pigs have eaten the dessert.

(Curtain).

COMPOSITION OF A GOOSE

A goose is a low heavy-set bird composed of meat and feathers. His head rests on the front end and his tail on the differential end. He can't sing much on account of the dampness in the moisture where he lives.

He ain't got no between his toes but he has two legs that are set so far back on his running gear that they came pretty nigh missing his body.

Some agree when they get big, are called ganders. A gander don't work, nor hatch eggs, but just eats and loafs and goes swimming.

If I was a goose, I'd rather be a gander.

THE TEE-OFF

The gallery was breathless, silent and astonished. Bob Dupree looked up at the ring of faces. Then he glanced down. He was careful of his stance. For a moment his muscles became tense, he poised and then began a terrific swing.

A cloud of dirt. A discouraging "swish!" And Bob, rated one of the best in the game, gave a curse under his breath. He'd missed again. What in thunder was the matter with him today? He expected the spectators to jeer him with laughs.

But the gallery was silent, patient, sympathetic. Then Jud Chidlow said: "J. Frank, I'm going down the street and watch 'em paint sign boards. This guy don't know beans about steam shoveling."

Jessie Van Ritchey intends to be a tight rope walker.

Stephen Huff plans to conduct touring parties in the Underworld.

Horse Oglesby is going to be a manufacturer of hair dye. He thinks that with his new advertising plans, purple fur coats will soon become popular.

Helen Etter intends to sell electric vibrators to the Hula Hula girls.

Billy Seawell will invent an inkless fountain pen.

Jean Laidlaw is going to invent flexible toes to wear when dancing with boys who didn't eat their east cake that day and therefore aren't strong enough to stand on their own.

Hugh Haley will sell inspiration to students taking exams.

Betty: "I'd rather you wouldn't—"

Willy: "Aw, just one."

Betty: "But what will mother say if—?"

Willy: "If I take just one your mother never know."

Betty: "Oh, yes she will; she has all her cookies counted out."

SHOOTING OF INNOCENT MEMBERS IS WATCHED

Horrors! They sat facing certain doom. The horrible machine seemed to glare in hungry greed at them. The demons' master smiled and smirked behind his terrible slave. Tensely the doomed victims sat, their eyes wide with fright as they watched the cruel master of the thing reached toward the fatal button. An electric-like tension was in the air, an omnious silence prevailed. Of a sudden there was a glaring flash, a puff of smoke, gasps, muffled screams, and then a quiet voice said, "All right, I got it!"

Tragedy? No, only the Hi-Y Club having its picture taken. Just another camera plate going wrong.

Jack Brooks: "They've just dropped their anchor."

Frank B.: "Gracious, I was afraid they would!"

J. B.: "It's been dangling outside for some time."

---

Jack G.: "Sir, I am a bill collector."

Bill M.: "Then I can furnish you with one of the most choice collections in the world. I thought you were after money."

The saddest words
Of Ruth or Lizzie
Are just these four,
"The line is busy."

ODE TO A GRECIAN MUD-HEN

While sailing 'neath Phoenician skies
My memory returning hies.
In gold and red of a sunrise
I linger though the hour dies.

While sailing the Aegean sea
I heard a birdie in a tree.
The bird was muddy as could be
And lo, he spake these things to me:

Thou low-life varlet, impious knave,
Thinkest thou to be Aeneas brave?
Of Troy burned, then o'er the wave
Thou'd speed to hide thee in a cave.

Fool, Rome was not built in a day.
'Tis grand to die in war, they say.
Much else I know, stay, oh, stay,
Knowledge I'll teach thee, no delay.

Much the birdie told me then
Of Daniel in the lion's den,
Of all that's known to tongue or pen
My all I owe to thee, Greek hen.

ODE TO AN EGYPTIAN CROCKODILE

While sailing up the river Nile
I bumped into a crockodile.
And Lo, this creature mean and vile
Made of my boat a mere wood pile.

In muddy waters then I swam,
Aided by many a beastly ram
From that crockodile. A final wham!
"Aha, Cleopatra, here I am."

The stars were shining bright and true.
No one could tell if or not I knew
Which way was up. But that will do.
Really I'd been knocked cuckoo.

Into her royal court I strode
Leaving my camel in the road
Quoth I while entering her abode,
"I'm Dick, son of King Africode."

The queen, I noticed was almost lit.
And Anthony had a jealous fit,
As beside Cleo I then did sit.
That's my story, I'll stick to it.

Finally I hear the birdies call.
The light now breaks. I see it all.
As painfully from the mud I crawl,
I blame that lizard for my fall.

ODE TO A CHINESE CHING GOW

While at a great Chinese pow-wow
I first did meet the Lord Ching-Gow.
Two heads had he; one horse, one cow,
His tail a cobra's, boy! And how!

The monster's eyes were fiery red,
As on innocent babes he fed
Into a royal rage he sped.
He breathed forth flames; the people fled.

He hurled teacups about the place,
Twirling aloft his bloody mace.
Frightened victims 'round him race,
Each hopes to save his homely face.

Amid the blood and great despair
The Emperor comes with lordly air,
Very surprised and unaware
Of his danger. Ah! Oh king, beware!

His majesty then he brutally slew
And placed on the corpse his gory shoe.
"This day I've slain enough for two,
O Gods of China! I am now through."

In a sedan-chair Ching-Gow rode,
The coolies staggering 'neath the load.
Graciously then his face he showed,
Who? 'Twas Dick, son of Africode.

"ODE TO A MEDIAEVAL MONSTER"

Sitting 'neath a mosquito tree
An awful monster rushed at me.
I'll take this opportunity
To tell you what he said. You see?
A hundred heads he had, or more,
Like those of Hydra, drenched in gore.
His beards were bristly like a boar,
And he threw at me an apple-core.
As I arose and prepared to flee
He shouted these words ferociously.
"Stop thou knave, and listen to me.
I'll tell you the tale of my life. You see?"
"In Augean stables I was born
'Mid other donkeys and beasts folorn.
Since fights with them I have one horn
To toot at Phoebus in the morn."
"My life was wild as it could be.
I chased folks like a bumble-bee.
A hundred knights made quest of me
And I devoured them all. You see?"
"Now as I near the end of life's road
'Mid shades and omens which forbode
Oh Furies! Conscience, must you goad?
I confess! I'm John, son of Africode."

MODERN AS YOUTH ITSELF!

Within the space of a score of years, the scope of Southwestern Engraving Company has increased from the parent plant in Fort Worth to an organization of nine plants.

Pioneering the field in the introduction of modernistic art, a personal service bureau composed of former college annual editors and managers, the budget and dummy system, and field service men, the name "Southwestern" has become synonymous with art motifs that are distinctive, an understanding, helpful service, and printing plates that "print right."
